

PASS SEWER AND WATER ORDINANCE

Act Compels Water Connection in Lead in Business Section

OTHER SECTIONS EXEMPT

At the meeting of the board Tuesday night the new ordinance relative to sewer and water taps was passed. It is published below in this issue. Read it.

Its provision, in short, are as follows: All sewer taps throughout the entire length of Main street must be put in at once. After 30 days all excavations in the street must be refilled with sand and gravel. Taps not made by property holders before contract for paving is let may be put in by Village and assessed against property.

In the section between Depot and Johnson street the above stipulations apply also to water taps. Also that in this section existing iron water pipes must be replaced by lead.

The next matter taken up was the extension of the water main to the south line of the village limits. The property owners decided to let the village handle the contract. A notice of bids is published and they will be opened Dec. 10.

AN ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE regulating the making of connections for water, sewer, gas or electric wiring in streets and alleys and the restoration of such streets and alleys after making such connections.

Be it ordained by the president and board of trustees of the Village of Antioch, county of Lake and state of Illinois:

Section 1. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to make opening or excavation in any street or alley in the Village of Antioch, Lake county, Illinois, for the purpose of making connection with sewer, water or gas pipes or electric wires or conduits in all cases where such street or alley has been paved and in all cases where an ordinance providing for the paving of such street or alley has been passed and in all cases where an ordinance providing for the paving of such street or alley has been adopted shall be governed by the rules, regulations and the requirements in making such excavations and connections as is hereinafter set forth.

Sec. 2. A permit to make any opening or excavation in any such street or alley shall first be obtained from the village in accordance with the ordinance of the Village of Antioch known as the Water and Sewer ordinance, passed and approved October 8th, 1918, and all amendments thereto.

Sec. 3. All openings or excavations in any such street or alley shall be made under the rules and regulations prescribed by the Village and with the least possible damage to such street or alley consistent with the purpose for which such opening or excavation shall be made. All such openings or excavations shall be refilled with sand or sand and gravel thoroughly compacted. Such filling shall be for the full width of the pavement so disturbed or pavement as is proposed. In addition thereto such refilling shall extend beyond the width of such pavement or proposed pavement for a distance equal to one half of the depth of the excavated trench. All pavement removed for the purpose of such excavation shall be carefully so removed. All pavement removed in making such excavation shall be replaced in substantial conformity to the specifications and requirements as to the original pavement construction. All such pavement replaced shall be at the same surface grade or level and workmanship as prior to such removal. In all openings or excavations in streets where an ordinance has been adopted providing for a pavement the trenches shall be filled in the same manner and to the surface, grade or level as before such excavation.

Sec. 4. In addition to all other costs and charges of permit so to be obtained, the person, firm or corporation desiring to make such opening

(Continued on Page 4)

20 Years Ago in Antioch

Thursday, December 5, 1901.

Elgin creamery butter sells at 24 1/2 cents per pound.

Herman Beck received a carload of wagons from Kenosha, Saturday.

A. N. Tiffany was a Waukegan passenger, Monday, where he is in attendance at the December term of the circuit court.

Laura Williams, of Chicago, spent Thanksgiving with her parents.

Miss Maude Brogan, of Kenosha Business College, spent Thanksgiving at Antioch.

Mr. Dunforth, who resides at Channel Lake, had an operation performed a few days ago for appendicitis, and at this writing is doing nicely.

Lee Burnett, who is working in the Wisconsin Central shops at Fond du Lac, spent Thanksgiving with friends and relatives at this place.

Mrs. C. Gilbert and son Sam and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pitman, Jr., and son Roy spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hucker at Lake Villa.

It is rumored that a party of capitalists are considering the plan of forming a syndicate and establishing an electric line between McHenry and Pistakee Bay, via Johnsburg and also to connect with Volo and Wauconda.

Niggemeyer Rebuttal Today

Testimony in the Niggemeyer case closed yesterday and today the arguments for the defense and the state will be heard. It is expected that the jury will receive the case by tonight.

Millions of Pike and Pickerel for Lakes

It is announced by Thos. S. McCafferty, superintendent of the Illinois Fish Hatchery at Spring Grove, that 20,000,000 pike and pickerel will be the winter's output, all of which will go into Lake county's lakes, and will be ready for the Chicago and northern Illinois anglers in two or three years.

Four million lake trout eggs from Lake Michigan are to be put into the hatchery this winter. Several new improvements are being made so that the output can be increased next year. This year was the first in four years that bass have been planted. Several lakes in McHenry county were stocked this year.

Advent Services at St. Ignatius' Church

On Thursday evening, Nov. 30, St. Andrew's Day, there will be evening prayer and sermon in the church at 8:30 by the Rev. W. D. McLean of Morgan Park. Father McLean has been in Antioch before, and many will remember him. On Friday morning at 8:00 a. m., there will be a Celebration of the Holy Communion and everyone is urged to attend these services.

Saturday evening choir practice at 7:30, and services as usual on Sunday next: Church School at 9:15 and morning prayer and address at 11:00 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Celebrate Silver Wedding

A very pretty event took place on Thanksgiving day in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilton's silver wedding at their home, south of Bristol, Wis. The event was celebrated with a dinner party. The dining room was beautifully decorated in pink and white, the centerpiece was a mammoth angel food wedding cake. To Mrs. Wilton's surprise when the telephone rang she received a telegram message of congratulations from her relatives in Skien, Norway. The bride and groom of 25 years received many pieces of silver. The afternoon was spent as a social gathering.

Auction Sale

One of the largest auction sales of the season will be held by Chas. Downer, 1 mile east of Millburn on Dec. 20th, including over 60 head of cattle, and a large amount of feed, farm machinery, etc. Watch for sale bills. L. J. Sloum, Auctioneer.

The National Tea company bought a number of the stores of the Co-operative Society of America, now in hands of receiver. The transaction includes transfer of the local stores of the society to the National company.—Barrington Review.

MRS. SAVAGE, PASSES AWAY HERE FRIDAY

After Lingular Illness, Mrs. Jacob Savage Dies at age of 81 Years

FUNERAL HELD ON MONDAY

Helen Louise Webb was born in Ithaca, New York, November 25, 1840, and left this world for the better land at Antioch, Illinois, on her eighty-first birthday, Nov. 25, 1921.

When Helen was a young girl, the Webb family pulled up from their old home in "York state" and went away out west to try their fortunes on the prairies of Illinois. They settled on a farm in the Hickory neighborhood, in Lake county, and did their full share of the hard and heavy toll required to tame the wild lands and create the great prosperity which has come in more recent years, not the least of their services being their faithful and earnest Christian life and efficient work in the church. The family became numerous and have filled a very large place in the development of all this part of the county.

Helen was converted when a young woman and united with the Methodist Episcopal church at the little brown church which stood a mile and a half east of the site of the present Hickory church, and has continued a member of the Methodist church through all the years. Fifty-two years ago the tenth of October at Haynesville, she was united in marriage with Jacob Savage and spent twenty-six years more in the strenuous life of the farm, living still in the Hickory community, where they were active in helping to build the present Hickory Methodist church.

At the end of these twenty-six years, they moved into Antioch, and have lived all the twenty-five years, since on the same corner where the present home is.

During most of the time since they came to town, Mrs. Savage's health has been very poor which fact has prevented her mingling very extensively in the social and public religious life of the community. But we are assured that her faith in Christ was always clear and strong, as was fond of reading her Bible and sincerely tried to live by its teachings and those who knew her best testify that she succeeded.

The husband survives, quite ill for several weeks past. Of her three sisters and two brothers, there survives only one brother, Almond Webb, living in Highland Park. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Jeannette Wells, and three sons, Austin, Mortimore and Leo Webb, all of Antioch. In addition to these more immediate relatives she is survived by eleven grand children and eight great-grandchildren, besides a very large number of nephews and nieces and other relatives.

During her recent illness, in moments of semi-consciousness, she would sometimes say, "I am going to my Father," and again she would look up, reach out her arms and say, "There is Mother!" At last, on Friday, a little after noon, she did go home to meet both her earthly Father and her Heavenly Father and to be with her Mother in the Heavenly Country.

The funeral services were held at the home Monday, Nov. 28, at 10:30 by Rev. Mumford, pastor of the Methodist church and the body was laid to rest in Union cemetery.

Local Couple Wed in Waukegan Wednesday

Mr. Benjamin Drury and Miss Bertha LaPlant were married in Waukegan Wednesday afternoon by the bride's cousin, Judge Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Drury will live at Cedar Lake. Miss Letha LaPlant, sister of the bride, and Harry Schumacher, of Delavan, Wis., were in attendance at the ceremony.

Auto Skids Off Road; Hits Telephone Pole

Robert Tarrant and a party of friends, while journeying to the Tarrant home at Bluff Lake early Friday evening, skidded off the roadway on Lake street and struck a telephone pole, damaging the front of the car considerably. None of the car occupants were injured.

Communication

Editor News:

The milk meeting, last Wednesday evening was largely given over to looking backward. We were told, in much detail, what had been discussed at this gathering and at that and what was done in the Marketing Co. meeting of this date and of that date. All these statements were doubtless accurate and in a sense satisfying, for we all like to know the facts. But the meeting adjourned with our minds still on the past and without constructive suggestion being offered as to what we are to do in the future. Yet, after all, it is the future we are to live in, to fall in or to succeed in and what we are to do in it and about it seem to me to transcend in importance anything that may have been said or done in the past. Hence I am not willing to simply fold my hands and wait for what the future has in store for us nor to drift idly with the current. Such idle drifting is a slow, weak and costly means of reaching a desirable goal. It seems to me, rather, it is up to us all, at this crisis of our affairs, to help frame some constructive policy beneficial to the dairy farmer of the Chicago district.

At the present hour the situation seems to be about this, that we are engaged in a sort of civil war, being divided into three hostile camps. The Milk Producers' association, The Marketing Co., and the Independents, being combatants, each striving to undo the other. Now should this long continue, with the weakened condition of the Milk Producers and the impaired strength of the Marketing Co., this war will shortly turn out to be a war of extermination and the Chicago territory will be without any organization and the dairymen so disgusted with organization in general that it will be difficult to start a new one however good it may be or how urgently needed. Such an outcome to this struggle would be as deplorable as it is inevitable.

How can an armistice be arranged and terms agreed upon before everything accomplished in the past ten years has been shot to pieces? I venture to uphold the thesis that neither by enlisting under the banner of the Milk Producers' with Holt and Rockwell nor under that of the Marketing Co. with its warring leaders nor joining both camps as Col. Downs would have us, is there peace in sight. And for this reason that both organizations have shown themselves far too inadequate and inefficient for the task before them and because of their inadequacy have lost the confidence of the people. This history of both organizations since 1916 abundantly prove the truth of this statement.

About four years ago the inadequacy of the Milk Producers' association was strikingly conceded and acknowledged by its own officers and members when almost unanimously they launched the Marketing Co. It was inadequate, it was lamentably inefficient as any one who ever attended the director's meetings or studied its constitution could surely testify. Its directors were an unwieldy body of untrained men who could do little, even had they had legal power to do more. It was not without its excellent points and accomplished fine things but by its own officers and members it was weighed in the balance and found wanting and the Marketing Co. was launched in a large sense to supersede it. Now after a brief but meteoric career the Marketing Co. seems about to fail. Its failure can not be laid at the door of Kittle or Owan or any other man but is due to the short sighted pooled and evil policy approved and inaugurated by its directors; the policy of assuaging to take care of all the surplus in order to "run a corner" on fluid milk. This broke it as many people said it would from the start.

I cannot believe, therefore, that the dairymen of this region can be rallied under either flag since time has written inadequacy and partial failure in both of them.

What shall we do then? I beg to suggest that a commission of say ten or twelve men be appointed, appointed in a way not open to criticism, representative of all factions, men without prejudice who can rise above faction, men capable of learning what is being done elsewhere, and capable of seeing what will suit the situation here, men ready to serve without remuneration in a great cause for the public welfare. The findings of such a commission would go far, I am confident, toward pointing how order can replace the present chaos. Without some such unprejudiced commission to blaze

(Continued on Page 4)

PETITIONS OF MILK PRODUCERS DO NOT MEET WITH FAVOR

Meeting of Wednesday Night Showed Less Than Half of Members Had Signed the Petitions Circulated by Milk Producers' Association

COL. DOWNS OF MARKETING COMPANY IS SPEAKER

The result of the attempt to have the Antioch local sign the petitions circulated by the officers of the Milk Producers' association did not prove to be very successful as at the end of the meeting in the town hall Wednesday night less than half of the members of the local had signed the petition despite appeals of some members for all to sign up. This can be taken, no doubt, as a direct comment against the present officers of the Milk Producers' association in their attempt to disrupt the present procedure in securing milk prices.

The meeting was not as fully attended as desired on account of weather conditions, but those there had the opportunity of hearing two good talks, one by W. D. Dunning, of Pleasant Prairie and Colonel Downs, of the Marketing Co.

Mr. Dunning touched on the affairs of the Marketing Co. and organization and urged the members to go slow and use the best possible judgment in their action in the milk situation.

Mr. Downs, who had entered the hall during Mr. Dunning's speech, was called on for a few words. Mr. Downs held the floor for an hour relating many incidents that happened during the time that the split came on the board of directors of the Marketing Co. and giving facts as to how certain interests are working to disorganize the Marketing Co. Mr. Downs stated that he was not here to defend the Marketing Co. or the Milk Producers' but to point out the necessity of the farmers sticking together. Mr. Downs' speech was very instructive, giving his hearers a detailed account of what happened before the discent on the board of directors of the Marketing Co. occurred and how the disruption of the board came about. It would be well to have the Antioch local invite Mr. Downs out to their next meeting and hear further facts on the situation.

Action was taken by the local on the petition submitted by A. N. Tiffany in regard to change train time of No. 8. The petition was accepted by the local and carried. The petition reads as follows:

The undersigned milk shippers shipping milk to Chicago over the Soo line would most respectfully ask that your road consider a change in the time of departure of train No. 8 leaving Antioch at about 10 a. m. We would like to have same changed to leave Antioch at about 11 a. m.

(Signed) A. N. TIFFANY.

The question to the effect that the farmers are not making money at the present price of fluid milk is now being thought over more seriously in view of the fact that the Pearson formula for November is reported as being 1.49 per hundred, and this comes in the face of the information sent out through a certain milk organ to the effect that the Pearson formula for November is 2.68.

It is without question a fact that some of the dairymen are not making money at the present prices but it is also true that those farmers were unfortunate enough to have to buy cattle, implements and other farm necessities at war prices thereby placing them in the same position with many other lines of business. These farmers therefore will have to take the same route as other business in taking their loss and get back on to the working bases of reconstruction days.

Those who are older in the dairy game contend that with milk around $2.00 the farmers can make a good profit and with the cost of production placed at $1.49 there should be no cause for complaint, as at the present time the supply of milk is being taken care of in a fair way and on the whole the farmers are to be congratulated in the fact that they are not taking any where near the loss that other industries are taking all over the country and it is without doubt that with close cooperation the price of milk can be gradually raised to $2.00 and better but not until the farmers decide that they want to put forth a strong front to the buyers either through the Marketing company or any other organization they may wish, but they must bear in mind that the Marketing company is a going concern and despite statements to the contrary it is in good financial condition and the only logical outlet for the dairy men as it is still contended that an attempt on the part of the Milk Producers to try and set the price of milk will get them into difficulty with the courts again and possibly bring about the breaking up of all dairy organization which is much desired by other interests.

The fact that dairymen can make money at the present price is further pointed out by the fact that many farmers are buying cattle, it being reported that 175 head of cattle have been shipped into Wauconda alone from Minnesota. This is a bit of evidence to the fact that the dairy interests is on the mend that can not be overlooked. It will be wise for every farmer in the district to try and find out why he is losing money, if that is the case, and if he finds that he bought material on a high market he better discount it immediately and get back on the present cost of production.

The Antioch News will soon endeavor to publish the system that is used for the establishing of the price of milk that the farmers may see where he is at fault in reaching costs.

The Marketing Co. has received the following communication from the Bassett, Wis. local:

Bassett, Wis., Sept. 15, 1921.

Resolved: We, the Milk Producers of the Bassett local, at their regular meeting do hereby express our confidence and faith in the present executive committee and most heartily endorse and commend the members of the board of directors who have so loyally supported the new executive committee in the much needed reforms in the business affairs of the Milk Producers' Co-operative Marketing Co. that are being made.

Be it further resolved, that we respectfully invite those directors who are opposing the executive committee to resign from the board of directors that their place may be filled by men who will support and work in harmony with the present committee.

(Signed) FERD. JAHNS, Pres., FRANK SCHMITT, Sec.

The following resolutions were also submitted to the Marketing Co.: Whereas, the present officers of the Milk Producers' association are illegally and unlawfully attempting to sell milk, thereby ignoring and attempting to destroy the Marketing Co.

Further, that the policy and actions of the officers of the Milk Producers' association are detrimental to the best interests of the dairymen.

Further, we fear that the acts of Messrs. Holt, Rockwell, and the milk board, will lead to the indictment of the association's officers, directors, or both, entailing a large expense of the defense of those who may be indicted.

Now, further, be it resolved, that we withdraw this local from the Milk Producers' association, and work with the organization department of the Marketing Co.

Further, that we retain any money now on hand or hereafter collected from the dues for the use of this local.

FERD. JAHNS, Pres., FRANK SCHMITT, Sec.

Bassett Local, Bassett, Wis.

It is reported from the Marketing Co. that similar action was taken at Lyons, their local announcing their full support to the Marketing Co.

Despite the discontent among the farmers in the present price of milk the fact is that the farmers of this territory are having another going than organizations throughout the country. Reports from New York say

(Continued on Page 6)

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

BELL-ANS
25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

For speed and ease in scouring pots and pans, use SAPOLIO—the effective, economical scouring soap.

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP
Alays Irritation, Soothes and Heals Throat and Lung Inflammation.

The almost constant irritation of a cough keeps the delicate mucous membrane of the throat and lungs in a congested condition, which Boschée's Syrup gently and quickly soothes and heals. For this reason it has been a favorite household remedy for colds, coughs, bronchitis and especially for lung troubles in millions of homes all over the world for the last fifty-five years, enabling the patient to obtain a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectation in the morning. You can buy Boschée's Syrup wherever medicines are sold.—Advertisement.

Considerations of Weight.
"Yond' Cassius has a lean and hungry look!" declared Caesar.
"Anybody better take a chance on him at that?" interrupted Anthony in a whisper. "You know, nobody loves a fat man."

Cuticura Soap for the Complexion
Nothing better than Cuticura Soap daily and Ointment now and then as needed to make the complexion clear, scalp clean and hands soft and white. Add to this the fascinating, fragrant Cuticura Toilet Trio.—Advertisement.

Trying His Hand.
Preacher Parker—I reckon you are getting kinder negligent in yo' religious duties, Mr. Botta. I ain't seen you in church for three Sundays.
Mr. Botta—No, parson, I ain't gettin' negligent. 'Tis jest thinkin' with my soul myself.—Exchange.

IN BUYING ASPIRIN ALWAYS SAY "BAYER"
Look for the Name "Bayer" on Tablets. Then You Need Never Worry.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" can be taken safely for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuritis, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Joint Pains, Numbness and Pain generally.
To get quick relief, follow carefully the safe and proper directions in each unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." This package is plainly stamped with the safety "Bayer Cross."
The "Bayer Cross" means the genuine, world-famous Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over twenty-one years.—Advertisement.

A pessimist says, "I can't." An optimist says, "I can." A pessimist says, "I will."

Have You a Cough?

Health is Most Vital to You. Read What Mrs. Jordan Says.

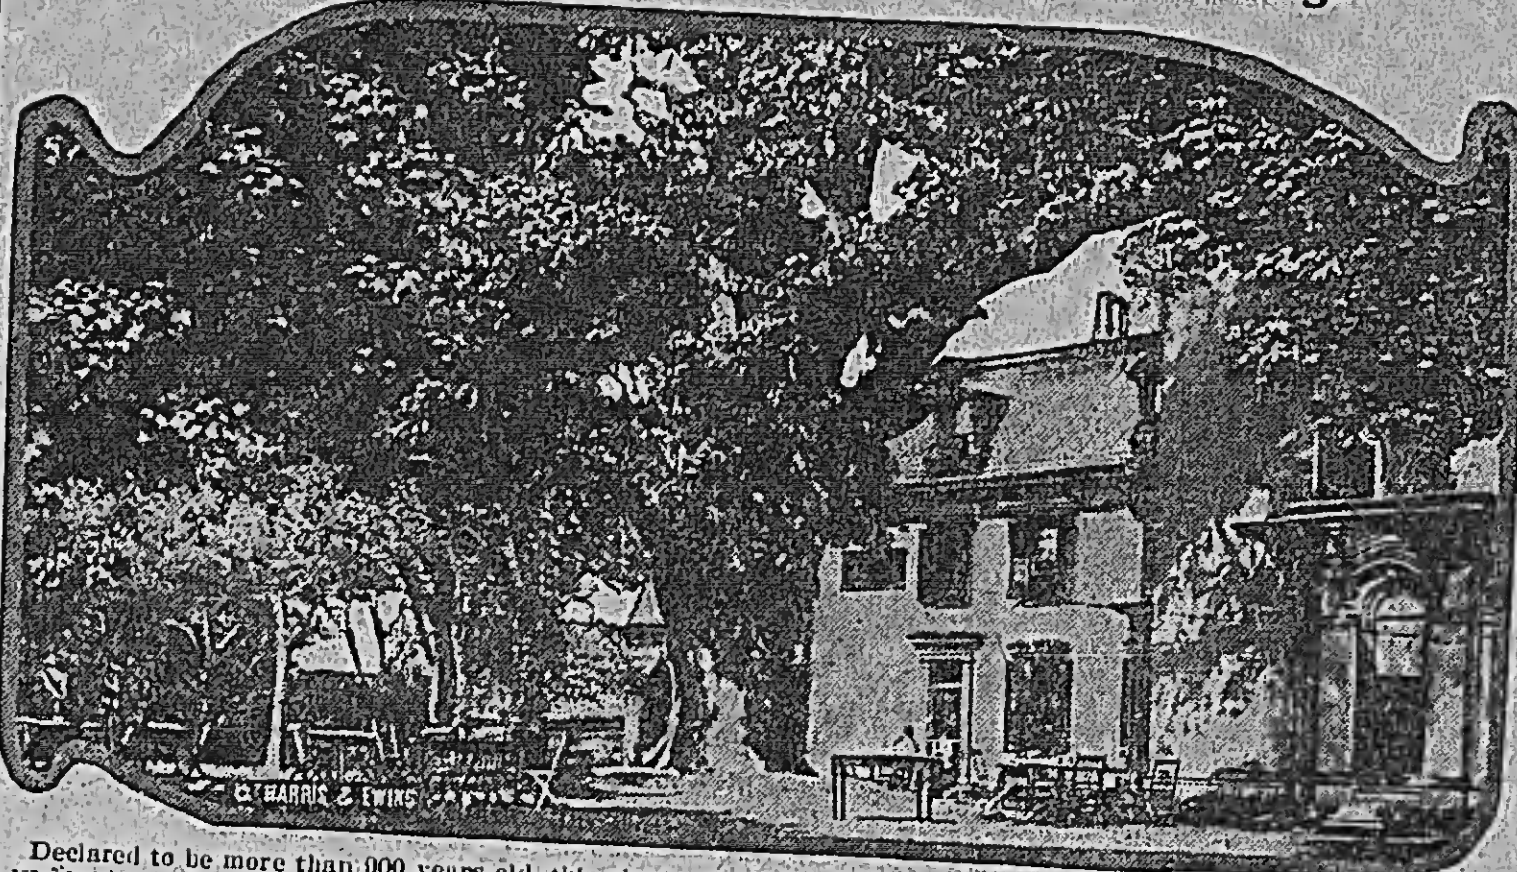

Danville, Ill.—"I am glad to testify to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the wonderful help it has given me. I was suffering with bronchial trouble. My bronchial tubes would become congested and sort of stop up and I had a chronic cough. This would bother me so at night that I could not get my natural rest and I became all run-down and weak. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it built me up in health, relieved me of my ailment and my general health was much better afterward."—Mrs. Viola Jordan, 800 1/2 Johnson St.

Go at once to your druggist and get the Golden Medical Discovery in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

RATS and MICE

MUST BE KILLED
By Using the Genuine STEARNS' ELECTRIC PASTE
Ready for Use—Better Than Traps
Household insects are everywhere. Flies, rats, mice, cockroaches, ants and beetles destroy food and property and are carriers of disease. Stearns' Electric Paste forces these pests to run from the building for water and fresh air. See and Use. "Money back if it fails."
U.S. Government Insecticide

OUJIA OIL, pronounced "Woj-ja," trade mark registered. Alights Egyptian remedy for Rheumatism, Neuritis, Calarthritis, etc. External use. Gent. per pint for 50¢ by Wm. Fuld, Sole Dist., Hartford and Federal, N.Y., N.Y.

Fine Site of Woman's Foundation Buildings

Declared to be more than 900 years old, this giant oak stands on the property of the Woman's National Foundation in Washington, where a group of buildings will be erected for various women's activities. The institute, which is backed by some of the leading women of the country, will cost $5,000,000.

Troubles Beset Tourist Abroad

Lack of Hotel Accommodations in European Cities Stumbling Block to Traveler.

MANY SLEEP IN BATHROOMS

Fortune Awaits Ambitious American
Who Will Go Into Hotel Business in Europe—Hotel Porter Powerful Potentate.

Vienna.—A fortune is awaiting any ambitious American who will come to Europe and go into the hotel business. There are, of course, complications in the way. Building materials are high, though when the exchange rate is considered not so high as at home. Labor demands high wages, according to the German and Austrian standard—but that standard leaves the skilled workman earning, according to American values, considerably less than $1 a day.

Again, there are inevitable stumbling blocks in the way of government tax when a piece of land changes hands. Also the international money conditions which have caused Germany and Austria to become beloved of English, American, Dutch, French, Italian and Scandinavian tourists may change before new hotels can be built, though it doesn't look as though they would.

At any rate, eliminating unexpected complications, the hotel business, to the eye of the layman now looks as if it must pay better than any other in the world.

Sleeping in the Bathroom.
It is more or less difficult to get a bath in any German or Austrian or Hungarian hotel nowadays, because all of the bathrooms are being used for bedrooms. Not that the guests sleep in the tubs, no, they merely sleep in beds or cots that have been added to the usual bathroom furniture, and they count themselves rather fortunate than otherwise because, while they are enjoying the use of the bathroom as a sleeping apartment they likewise preempt the use of the tub. I slept in the bathroom myself in Munich, and it was very comfortable.

Building additions, redecorating and renovating in general is now too expensive for the average German or Austrian. Private dwellings and public institutions alike show rather distressing wear and tear. Hospitals in particular are shabby to a point where their executives bemoan that they are unsanitary.

Private apartment houses are spotty as to paint and dangerously raveled as to stair coverings. Hotels are universally, however, in a state of newly painted smartness and are being bravely remodeled and redecorated.

Hotel Porter is All Powerful.
The hotel porter always in Europe has been a dignitary of considerable prominence. In his admirer's coat, his linguistic ability, his infallible knowledge of train schedules and theaters and that omnipotence of his in playing chess with vacant rooms as his squares and guests as his pawns—in

Home, Just Erected, Burned to the Ground

Stephen A. Long, a carpenter of Margate City, N. J., snipped in a tent all summer with his family that they might save enough to build a small bungalow. Long built the home before and after his day's work, recently completing the bungalow.

The "moving" was quite an event and the family went to the theater at night as a little celebration. When they returned they found blackened ruins. The fireplace at the end of the cozy living room had thrown off a spark that fired the building, which was not insured.

One Lone Trout Stops Coal Mine

London.—Close to 600 men lost a day's work this week at a colliery in Lancashire through a trout choking the water supply for the boilers. The cage could not be lifted to the pithead, as the boilers were not working. After a great deal of trouble the cause of the breakdown was discovered. The trout weighed one pound and six ounces. Work was resumed next day.

through the lobby, emulated by other racing and wild-eyed travelers, only to be told that there, too, people are sleeping in the bathrooms.

Ah, a Boarding House.
At last one Jovian gentleman in the baughty regalia of a porter took pity on a lady traveling alone—this was the fifth hotel—and telephoned to the keeper of a pension or boarding house that he knew. Yes, she had a vacant room, the porter was pleased to inform me and accepted a slight gratuity for his condescension.

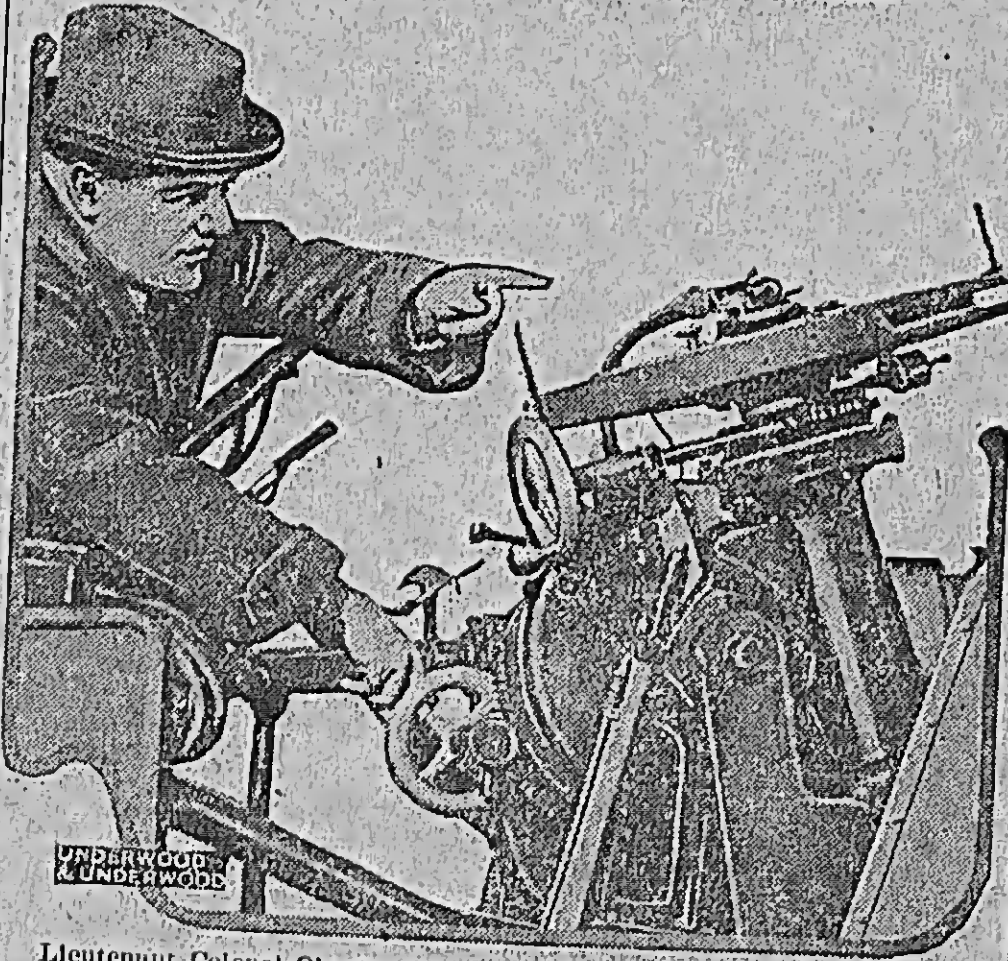

We dashed again and this time the driver carried the luggage up three flights of dark, draughty and onlony stairs. The pension keeper met us at the door, sweet but sorry. No, the room was taken. A gentleman had come just after she had answered the telephone.

"But you promised," I yelled.
"Promised, madame?" she repeated. "I do not promise. I merely said that at that moment there was a room vacant. There is none vacant now."

The luggage was carried down the dark and onlony stairs again, and another hotel was tried. Here there was another porter who knew a pension, and in this pension, at last, there was haven of a sort. It was of the sort that is frequently disturbed during the night by things with six legs.

The experience, however, is not unique. And because many hotels were appropriated for other uses during the war and have never been restored to their original utilitarian field, and because no building has been done for seven years and tourists from all over the world find it pleasant and profitable to sojourn in these lands where money is cheap—the hotel business would seem to be a pleasant and profitable one.—Milton Telchuer in Chicago News.

Peru is planning to spend several million dollars to give Lima and several other towns fresh water, sewers and other sanitary improvements.

Centrifugal Gun Is a Wonder

Lieutenant Colonel Olmstead demonstrating to a party of government officials a new centrifugal gun at Seagirt, N. J. Firing 1,200 shots a minute, this ably machined for minimum air resistance, with a bore of 60-100 of an inch, from the muzzle to the center. In actual firing this barrel may be revolved and firing take place at from 4,000 to 10,000 revolutions per minute. This wide range of speed results in an equally wide range of penetrating power at any given distance.

Large Can, 12 Ounces

25¢

DR. PRICE'S
Phosphate
Baking Powder

Made and Guaranteed by Royal Baking Powder Co.
Contains no Alum

Use it
—and Save!

Write for New Dr. Price Cook Book—It's free
Price Baking Powder Factory,
1003 Independence Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

Equal to the Occasion.
"Walter, if this is spring chicken where is the wishbone?"
"It was too young to wish, sir."

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP
FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.
Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Reproved.
Her Father—You have been a very naughty girl and I'm going to spank you.
Little Elsie—Would you strike a lady?

Bad habits that are given up are those you don't care much for any way.

An Orator's Impression.
"Do you think the public ought to hear everything that is said at a conference?"
"Such a thing," replied Senator Sorghum, "is impossible. If the public tried to listen to all the speeches it would go fast asleep."

Important to all Women
Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many need for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By mail, ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Just What He Wanted.
Cadger—Hear you're workin', Sonker. What are you doin'?
Sonker—Nuthin'!
Cadger—Any chance of gettin' a job at the same place?—Stray Stories.

Genuine

ASPIRIN

Never say "Aspirin" without saying "Bayer."

WARNING! Unless you see name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 21 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds      Headache      Rheumatism
Toothache      Neuralgia      Neuritis
Earache      Lumbago      Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—Bottles of 24 and 100—All druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetolacetic acid of Germany.

Write your name and address below. Mail to Loring Park Sanatorium and receive Diet List and Menu FREE.

Name.....
Street.....
City..... U. S. C.

DIABETES

FREE—Complete Diet List and Menu Schedules with Table of Food Values and full instructions, recently compiled and based on seven years of experience and success in the treatment of Diabetes at Loring Park Sanatorium.
Write for above and booklet of Loring Park Sanatorium, Both sent Free.
LORING PARK SANATORIUM
1508 Harmon Place
P.O. Box 6341 Minneapolis

Methodist Episcopal Church News

SUNDAY SERVICES:
 Sunday School ..... 9:45
 Morning Service ..... 11:00
 Epworth League ..... 7:00
 Evening Service ..... 7:45

Last Sunday, although a gloomy rainy day outside, proved to be a fine day, full of inspiration and helpfulness at the Methodist church. Good audiences were present at all the services. Some pupils who had been absent during the summer vacation returned to the Sunday School and there were some out of town visitors present and all present enthusiastically pledged themselves to try to invite more to come.

In the morning the pastor presented clearly and plainly, well developed plans for "The Efficient Church" and earnestly sought the cooperation and help of every member of the church. If the membership will work to accomplish these plans in the same earnest prayerful spirit with which Mr. Mumford so ably outlined them, very much may be done for the advancement of the Master's Kingdom in this community, this year. Miss Mary Tiffany and Mrs. Garland, accompanied by Mrs. Ziegler, sang a beautiful solo.

The Epworth League had a helpful, spirited, well attended service in the evening, led by Nelson Drom.

At the closing service of the day the pastor preached an earnest, forceful sermon on "The Worth of a Soul," plainly showing how much greater is the spiritual than the physical and the utter impossibility of measuring spiritual values in material terms. Mr. Mumford and his son, Quayle, sang a very expressive duet, accompanied by Miss Susan Tiffany.

At all the services announcement was made of the great Centenary Pageant to be held in Orchestra Hall, Chicago, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. This will be one of the greatest pageants ever put on in this vicinity and many plan to attend. Anyone wishing to be included in the Antioch party may hand their name to Mr. Mumford who will secure their tickets and information for them.

Of course, no one will forget the bazaar with all the good things to eat and nice things to sell, at the church basement Thursday afternoon and evening, given by the Ladies' Aid.

Unclaimed Letters at the Postoffice

The following letters remain unclaimed at the Antioch postoffice on Monday, November 28:
 Mrs. Bertha Larsen.
 Ed Taylor.

Farm Bureau News

BY C. E. WHELOCK of Libertyville, Ill.

High Egg Records

The first egg laying contest ever held in Illinois closed with the month of October.

Five birds constitute a pen. The highest pen for the year was Barred Rocks, with 1,039 eggs; S. C. White Leghorns, second, 839 eggs; C. S. White Leghorns, third, 816 eggs; C. C. Reds, fourth, 815 eggs; C. C. White Leghorns, fifth, 813 eggs. The highest individual bird was a Barred Rock, with a record of 279 eggs. The eggs from this best hen at average market price are worth about $8.

No kind of livestock will return as much on the investment as poultry if well cared for and the boarders culled out.

H. K. Vose, of Gurnee, has a pen of White Wyandottes in the laying contest this year. The records begin with the month of November.

National Meeting of County Agents

The annual meeting of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents will be held in Chicago at the National stock yards this week. County agents attending this meeting will also see the International Live Stock exposition.

M. L. Mosher, of Woodford county, is president of the National association.

"The county farm bureau was an outgrowth of the county agent work," says Mr. Mosher. Following the county farm bureau came the state federations and later the organization of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which is holding its third annual meeting here this week.

"The primary work of the 2,500 county agricultural agents in the United States is to assist the individual farmers in working out their production, economic and social problems," says Mr. Mosher.

The morning session of the Chicago conference will be a discussion of the relation of the county agricultural agent to the farm bureau. In the afternoon H. C. Taylor, of the bureau of markets will give an address on the farmer and his markets.

H. W. Mumford, of the I. A. A., and C. H. Gustafsen, of the U. S. G. G., will also speak.

A banquet will be held in the evening and Samuel R. Guard, director of the department of information of the American Farm Bureau, will talk on ways and means of education. Following that will be the presentation of "The Homestead," a rural photoplay produced by the A. F. B. F., which pictures the coming of a permanent satisfied agriculture, which, after all, says Mr. Mosher, is the thing that all of us are working for.

Mr. Mosher met with the agricultural agents of Georgia at Atlanta, Tuesday. He is especially anxious to have the south well represented at the national conference. J. H. H. Mote, of Carthage, Mo., is secretary of the organization.

PROTECT YOUNG FRUIT TREES

Apple trees three years old or younger should be wrapped with some material as a winter protection against rabbits and mice.

When the ground is covered with snow in winter and all out doors is frozen solid, a good square meal is pretty hard for Mr. Cottontail to find at least he likes a little green relish mixed in, and nothing tastes better than fresh bark from a young apple tree. It takes a long time for a tree to recover from this kind of an injury. If the rabbit gnaws off the bark all the way around, the tree will not live unless more bark is grafted on. Any injury to the bark leaves a chance for disease to enter the tree.

Wrappings should be applied in November and removed in April.

There are a variety of wrappers for this purpose. Heavy paper or corn stalks may be used, binding them around the trunk by strings or wires. Wire netting of about 1/2 inch may be used, in which case removal in the spring is unnecessary. Very fine wire, such as window screen, is not desirable, and might afford partial protection for insects during the summer months. Poultry wire is not suitable because the mesh is too large. Wood veneer bands prepared for the purpose may be had from most of the companies who manufacture fruit packages at about 2 cents each, and will last for two or three years.

These bands should be soaked in water for some time before using, so they will be pliable and will wrap around the tree without breaking.

Growers generally do not wrap young peach trees, since rabbits do not damage them as severely as they do apple trees. The fall application of lime sulphur probably acts as a repellent to both mice and rabbits.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many kind friends and neighbors for their help and floral offerings during our late bereavement. Also the services rendered by the singers.

JACOB SAVAGE AND FAMILY.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Issued by the U. S. Postal Department

To the boys and girls of the United States:

Christmas is almost here.

Your post office department has a big job ahead and needs your help.

Think what it means to be Santa Claus to our 100,000,000 people and to deliver Christmas parcels to every family in this great country within the short space of a few days and without disappointment.

It can be done, and we're going to do it if we may have your help. I want to enlist the active assistance of every boy and girl in the schools of our country in getting parcels mailed this week to relieve the rush that comes directly before Christmas.

Will you go home to-day and take this message to your parents and friends?

"Our postmaster has asked us to mail our Christmas parcels this week, for, unless we do, Uncle Sam's load may be so heavy the last few days before Christmas that he won't be able to deliver all the presents by Christmas eve."

The parcels must be well wrapped and tied and addressed plainly in order that they may arrive in good condition with their Christmas appearance unspooled. You can put on your packages, "Do not open until Christmas."

And, there must be a number on your house and a mail receptacle, too, for, if there isn't, Santa Claus' messenger, your letter carrier, may not be able to find the house where the presents belong.

There are some other things in which you can all assist in improving the mail service and in saving our great government millions of dollars a year that is now wasted because of our carelessness—yours and mine.

Every day that you drop a letter in the mail box 40,000,000 other letters are already pushing and jamming through the postal machinery. One letter a day for each family of five persons in the United States is given to Uncle Sam to deliver.

When you send a parcel to the post office for mailing, any day there are 8,000,000 other parcels ahead of yours passing through the postal hopper. This is in ordinary days; at Christmas time it is multiplied many times.

One family in about every ten puts a badly addressed letter in the mail every day. This mixes up over 2,000,000 half-addressed letters with the 40,000,000 fully addressed letters. That means that the fully addressed letters must wait on the slow-moving poorly addressed letters just like the larger boys and girls are delayed by a bunch of "bad kids" tagging along. You boys and girls can help the postal service and save your father some money, because he has to help pay the cost of searching addressees on letters and parcels sent out by this one careless and thoughtless family in every ten.

First find out if your family is the careless one, then bear in mind that your letters must be handled by skilled mail distributors standing in post offices and on swaying postal cars of a mile-a-minute mail trains, often under poor light.

The address on every letter, card, or package must be correct, complete, legible, including the house number and name of street, and the "From" address should be in the upper left hand corner so that the mail will be returned to you in case it is not delivered. Do not abbreviate names of states because so many look alike when so abbreviated.

Put the proper amount of postage on your letters and wrap the parcels carefully. Avoid fancy writing, which causes post office clerks and letter carriers to stop and study, and thus lose time. Make the address plain and easily read, and always use pen and ink or typewriter and light-colored envelopes, so as to save the eyes of the post office clerks. Do not use envelopes of unusual size. The little ones that are so frequently used for cards and notes at Christmas or other holiday times causes an untold amount of trouble and labor, as they will not fit our canceling machines and must therefore be canceled by hand. Because of their size and tendency to slip out of a package, these small envelopes are more likely to be overlooked or lost.

Mail your letters and packages early in the day because this avoids overloading and delaying mail at the end of the day.

Your local postmaster and your teacher will tell you more about the postal service.

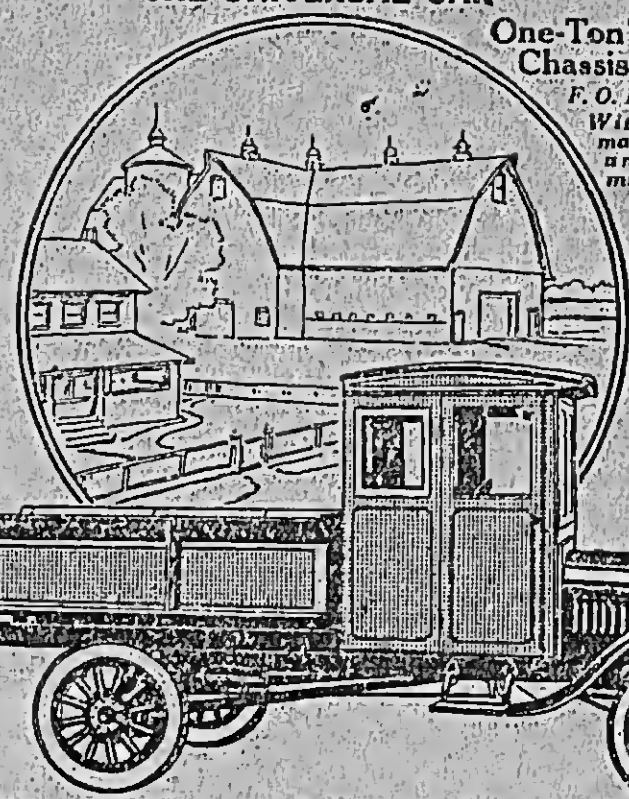

Do these things, and you will win the grateful appreciation of the people in your post office and especially of your postmaster general.

Foreign money orders should be mailed as near December 1 as possible.

WILL H. HAYES.

P. S. Don't forget to mail Christmas packages this week.

Ford
 THE UNIVERSAL CAR

One-Ton Truck
 Chassis $445
 F. O. B. Detroit
 With Pneumatic Tires and Detachable Rim

The One-Ton Truck

The Ford One-Ton Truck first made its appeal to the farmer and the merchant because of the merits of Ford Cars. And it made its wonderful reputation and great sales record because it lived up to every claim made for it.

The reliable Ford Motor, the special Ford steel chassis, the aluminum bronze worm-drive, all combine to produce a truck of unusual power, capacity and strength—a truck that lasts in service; a truck that solves the haulage problem at a very small operating and upkeep expense. Hence the demand for the Ford One-Ton Truck is constantly on the increase.

For the good of your business, whether it be farming, merchandising or manufacturing, you should come in and look over the Ford One-Ton Truck—NOW!

IMPORTANT

We are prepared to furnish the Ford Truck equipped either with Standard or Special Gearing. The Standard Gearing gives the truck a maximum of power. The Special Gearing increases the speed of the truck from five to seven miles an hour, converting it into a Fast Delivery Car.

Antioch Sales & Service Station

Suggestions on

Poultry Circulars
 Livestock Circulars
 Advertising Booklets
 Stationery and Newspaper Advertising

will be gladly given those desiring to start an advertising campaign on livestock. Color work is our specialty.

The Antioch Press
 ANTIOCH, ILL.

As an advertising medium The Antioch News brings results.

AUCTION SALE OF THE 40-ACRE FARM

Situated 1 mile northeast of Antioch on the Antioch-Pikeville road. Good house and barn and other out-building, cement silo, most land is black loam and in high state of cultivation. This farm is all tiled and has no waste land. Only one mile from railroad station and good schools.

Friday, Dec. 2, 1921

W. J. CHINN, Auctioneer G. W. BARTLETT, Clerk

Terms are very liberal

CHARLES BRANSKY, Prop.

An Inspection of This Farm is Invited

Farms, Summer Resorts and Country Homes Sold for Cash or Easy Terms. Property Exchanged a Specialty.

For Quick Sale, List Your Property With an Old Reliable Real Estate Dealer.

ESTABLISHED 1893

Member of Cook County Real Estate Board

JOHN HEIM
 REAL ESTATE

3148 N. ASHLAND AVENUE
 Near Corner Belmont Avenue

Office Phone Lake View 478

Chicago, Ill.

PATRONIZE THE HOME MERCHANT

The Antioch News

Entered at the postoffice in Antioch, Ill., as second-class matter.

Published each Thursday by The Antioch Press, Antioch, Ill.

Price $1.50 a year, in advance

BARRICADES

Public and official sentiment has been aroused over the apparent willful and wanton disregard by motorists of the barricades erected by contractors to protect newly built highways until they are ready for service. Highway officials at Springfield have asked the authorities of the various towns and counties to give them the facts in numerous cases where the barricades have been broken down, in order that prosecutions may be started.

Some instances have been reported where heavy pilings, sunk into the ground and fastened with log chains, have been chopped away by some motorists who preferred to ruin the "green" concrete road rather than make a detour. One such instance occurred last Sunday on the Bluff road just east of Ottawa. The motorist took away the barrier and not only permanently defaced the road but got off the path and ruined the shoulder for a long stretch.

There is a state law against removing barricades and using newly built roads until they are pronounced fit for service and the officials say they will institute prosecution against all those who are known to have violated the law. Hundreds of such instances are on record in Springfield, it is said.

On one occasion a Chicago detective attempted to drive his car over the new concrete road in Lake county. One of the workmen drove a truck in front of the Chicago car and told him he could go no further as he would ruin the newly laid concrete. The detective flourished a pistol and insisted. Another workman seized a shotgun and shot the detective, wounding him seriously.

Lake county officials not only vindicated the workman, but commended him, and their was no prosecution. An official of the county said:

"It is malicious destruction of public property for motorists to attempt to drive over newly constructed roads. We are having a hard enough time trying to get a few miles built as it is, but it is going much too far when they try to ruin those we are getting built. There are several hundred thousand motor cars in Illinois and if all of these drivers ruined a few blocks each what would be left of the roads constructed throughout the state this year? Public sentiment will back the officials in anything they do about such outrages."

Want Ad
DEPARTMENT

FOR SALE—Eight rabbit hounds, one month old. Inquire of Tracey Davis. 12w2

FOR SALE—Seven high-grade Holstein yearling heifers. These are fine animals, and are all of the Baird & Son of Waukegan stock. W. D. Dunning, Phone 163w2.

FOR SALE—A number of bronze gobblers. These are fine birds and would please you. Phone 163w2.

FOR SALE—Combination book case and writing desk also Penicula stove. Inquire of Wm. Beller. 13w1

FOR SALE—Plymouth Rock chickens. Walter Dibble, east Loon Lake. 13w1

FOR RENT—Room in town, use of bath, hot water, furnace heat. Phone 147m.

Gigantic Waterspout. A waterspout recently measured from a British ship in the Indian ocean was 4,000 feet high to the base of the overlying cloud. The column tapered from 500 feet wide at the junction with the cloud to 150 feet wide at the sea.

Communication

(Continued from Page 1)

the way I fear the dairymen of this region will be lost in the woods.

Why should not the Antioch local take this suggested forward step or a better one if a better one is suggested. Years ago John Madin from our midst here was the prime mover in organizing the Producers' association. Prior to 1913 the association was largely given up to fighting the tuberculin test. In that year the movement for higher milk prices originated in the Antioch local. Let us rise to meet the present crisis.

ALBERT E. JACK.

Making Cement Waterproof. To make cement waterproof try mixing 10 per cent of heavy oil with the first coat of the cement plaster.

WHEN in need of Printing see what we can do before you go elsewhere.

The Antioch Press
Phone 43

FREE

To stimulate winter business we will equip all new 490 model Chevrolets ordered from us for immediate or spring delivery during the months of December, January and February with a set of Gabriel Snubbers.

And all F. B. 50 models with extra tire and tube FREE.

The Antioch Sales Co.

Tel. Antioch 112-J

Cars on Exhibition at Main Garage
(Formerly H. & M. Garage)

FREE

8 LBS. CHASE & SANBORN
SEAL BRAND COFFEE

See Particulars in Our Window

WILLIAMS BROS.

For One Week Only

$2.50 Watch $1.00
forOnly 24 Days Before Christmas
Do Your Holiday Shopping Early

10% Discount

on all cash purchases between now and December 14. All purchases will be reserved for holiday delivery by making one-third payment now.

Our stock is one of the largest in this part of the county and includes a large assortment of the following goods.

Jewelry	Smoking Goods	Kodak Albums
Clocks	Electric Lamps	Handbags
Silverware	Kodaks	Music Rolls
Cut Glass	Films	Sheet Music

Hand Painted China	Eversharp and
Musical Instruments	Conklin Pens
White Ivory Ware	Burgess Flashlights and
Victor Victorolas	Batteries
Brunswick Phonographs	Pyrex and Oven Glass-
Latest Records	ware
School Supplies	All Kinds of Beads
Musical Toys	Plain and Fancy
	Stationery

We have a large assortment of Spectacles and Eyeglasses, Christmas Booklets and Cards to suit everyone. Come while our stock is complete and make your choice early.

Wm. Keulman

JEWELRY

Antioch, Ill.

"No God---No Sin
No Future Life"

HAD BEEN THEIR CREED

What Was the Answer From the Other Side?

BASIL KING'S Powerful Drama of the Unseen World

TWO men built their lives on this creed: "No God—no Sin—no Future Life!" It flung one headlong into the future he scoffed at. It put the other on trial for his life.

Then the murdered man came back from his world of shadows. Back to his wife and the woman who had invited him to sin.

Passion still held him to the scenes of his transgression. Even in death he could not escape. He was earthbound!

How far away are the dead? Is the spirit held to earth by its desires? Is there any growth and progression—even after the shadowy barrier has been crossed.

Men and women, everywhere, stirred by intense personal feeling, have been asking—"Does the personality change with death? How long do the old interests go on?"

"Earthbound" deals with the emotional realities of men and women. It is a remarkable lifting of that veil which stands between this life and the next.

EARTHBOUND

AT THE

MAJESTIC THEATRE

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3

Regular Prices---15c and 25c

School Children---Attention!

A chance to earn Christmas money or Free Show Tickets. We will pay 5c for each adult ticket sold for "Earthbound," Fri. and Sat., Dec. 2-3. Get your tickets at King's Drug Store now. Open to any scholar—country or city, high school or grade school. No strings on this offer. Let's go kids!

High School Happenings

Editor-in-Chief ..... Benlah Drom
Junior Class ..... Anna Kret
Sophomore Class ..... Ada Chinn
Freshman Class ..... Edith Edgar

Debating class has begun work in earnest and are now gathering material for a pro and con discussion on slang and bad manners.

Emilie Forbrich spent Thanksgiving vacation in Chicago.

The boys have begun basket ball practice with Henry Haley as captain.

Dwight Drom was absent Tuesday on account of sickness.

The Physics class is already an energetic class but it is learning more about energy and it has started work on mechanical energy.

New shrubs and evergreens are being planted about the grounds by the agriculture boys. We hardly recognize the place.

Home Economics is to study milk this week.

Beulah Drom spent Friday in Milwaukee.

Examinations have been very plentiful the last few days.

The Agriculture boys visited the International Stock Show in Chicago on Friday and Saturday.

Mildred Hulik spent Thanksgiving in Chicago.

Letha LaPlant attended her sister's wedding Wednesday.

Emilie Forbrich successfully passed in all the branches of the County Teacher's examination.

The Seniors are working harder than usual. They have Dec. 16, in view.

Outsiders visited this week. We are glad to welcome any one interested in the school.

The first meeting of the Agriculture club was held Monday night.

The Christmas gift shop will open at 7:30 p. m., December 16, at the high school. This shop is under the patronage of the classes in domestic art, domestic science, manual training, bookbinding art and designs. Gifts which have the unusual, the artistic, and the practical emphasized will be on sale at very reasonable prices. The hand embroidered gifts will save your eye strain and yet they will be greatly appreciated, as good hand work always is. You will find the gift which has caused you so much worry, among our enameled containers for candy, cakes, spices or cigars. There will be lovely boxes for each separate room or each separate shelf. How would a blank receipt book bound in white oil-cloth do? A jar of orange marmalade or of preserves, or a box of home made candy? If the children always break their toys, come and see our sure enough automobile trucks, wagons, doll's furniture, or animals which can not be broken. The gift shop will remain open until Christmas, but the one thing you wanted may be sold the first night, so come early and have your choice. Our gifts will be individual and personal, they will please anyone. Let us do your worrying for you.

Tanlac is well advertised, but advertising alone could not have produced Tanlac's popularity. It had to have merit. S. H. Reeves.

Christmas Suggestions

No Xmas package is complete without your photograph. Post cards, $1.50 a dozen. Beautiful photos in folders $5.00 per dozen and up.

Kodaks.
Photograph albums.
Films.
Hand carved picture frames.
Reading lamps.
Calendars.
Photographic Xmas novelties.

Our business is all special made to order or especially ordered goods to meet your desire so order now to avoid disappointment.

This ad clipped from the paper will be worth one dollar to the holder on one dozen Photos, at $6.00 per dozen or more, provided it is presented before Dec. 9th, 1921. A deposit required on all orders.

W. S. Goldwire
Antioch, Ill.

Local and Social Happenings

Mrs. M. M. Burke is quite ill in a Chicago hospital.

Miss Belle Hughes spent the week end in Antioch.

The interior of Ross' restaurant has been redecorated.

Judge Taylor and wife spent Thanksgiving in Antioch.

Ray Thompson visited over Sunday with the Kuhnaupt family.

Mrs. Lawrence Hoffman and son spent last week in Chicago.

Mr. John Dewey is confined to the house with an attack of rheumatism.

The Misses Schroeder, of Chicago, spent over Sunday with Antioch friends.

Rev. Mumford entertained their daughter from Evanston several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley and son, of Racine, visited relatives and friends over the week end.

The agriculture class of the high school has been planting shrubbery on the school grounds this week.

The Young People's club of St. Ignace church will hold a confetti dance on December 10 at the opera house.

The family vacated the Bates house on Main street last week and Mr. Di- bert and family will move in about December 1.

Mr. McGee and family and Mrs. Dudley went to Chicago Saturday to see Mr. McGee's brother who is visiting there from Mexico, Mo.

A gathering of friends of Miss Deering, Miss Delhay, Mr. Lisle Falch and Mr. Paul Dudley was held at the home of Ben Falch Saturday evening. A delightful supper was held and the group enjoyed themselves immensely in the evening. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. William Weber, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weber, Miss Delhay, Miss Deering, Mrs. Paul Dudley, Mr. Lisle Falch, Miss Edith Kerer, Mr. George Mitchell, Mr. Gorman, Mr. Oliver Wilton, Mr. and Mrs. Corson, Mr. Edward Wegner, Miss Vera Jones.

Piano and Harmony Teaching

—by—
Mrs. Pearl Rosen
Call Antioch 21 for Appointment

Grade School Notes

Myrtle Nernian, Editor for grades 7 & 8
Laura Anderson, Editor for grades 5 & 6
Esther Barthel, Editor for grades 3 & 4

Gladys Barthel and Margaret Dunn spent the week end in Waukegan.

Pupils are preparing for examinations this week.

Mrs. King visited school last week.

The sixth graders are making salt and flour relief maps of the United States.

Donna Mae Hancock was a visitor this week.

Many of the children visited neighboring towns over Thanksgiving.

Teacher: "What was the shape of the earth at the time of Columbus?" Bright pupil: "Square."

Raberta Lewis gave the fifth and sixth grade room a very pretty tinted winter bouquet.

Christmas Sale

There will be a special sale of Christmas articles, such as, dollies, dresser sets, aprons, lunch sets, pillows cases, towels, buffet sets, table runners etc., at the Woman's exchange during the month of December, beginning Saturday, December 3rd. Prices very reasonable. Everyone invited to inspect the display. Mrs. Emma Bartlett.

If you are feeling badly, put your troubles away by taking Tanlac. S. H. Reeves.

Emmons School

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cobb were visiting his parents Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gray and son William were in Chicago for a few days.

Mrs. Cook was a Chicago passenger Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Messing and daughter Olive spent Thanksgiving with their daughter, Mrs. Paulsen of Chicago.

Mr. John Zitko and daughter Susan were Chicago passengers Saturday.

Ruth and Helen Blanchard were absent Monday on account of sickness.

Notice for Bids

Bids will be received on Saturday, December 10, 1921, by the Village Clerk of the Village of Antioch, at the village hall at 7 p. m., for the purpose of extending the water main on the south end of Main street. Plans and specification for same can be examined at the office of the village clerk.

13w2 By order of the Village Board.

The annual meeting of the Lake County Fair association will be held at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, December 7th, at the Farm Bureau office, Libertyville.

Is your liver out of order? Do you suffer from biliousness, headache, constipation? If so, Tanlac is what you need. S. H. Reeves.

GRAYS LAKE THEATRE

Dedicated to the silent drama, presenting photo plays of known merit. Fine features and classy comedies. Every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday evening at 7:30 and 9:10 o'clock.

The Star—Moderate Prices

PLAY PASSO

The new, fascinating popular game played on ordinary checker board. Combines elements of foot-ball with principles of chess. If you like checkers or chess, you will be crazy about PASSO. Best position to any address. Just the thing for the coming winter even. Price $1.00.

RAY C. ALLEN, Box 362 Lombard, Ill.

Shoes and Rubbers

at prices that can't be duplicated anywhere.

Get your feet shod for the cold, snowy days that are inevitable this winter.

FREE --- Tulip Bulbs

to every child of school age in Antioch and vicinity. Two to each child while they last.

Yours for better shoes for less money

Chicago Footwear Co. Antioch

AT LAST!

A DRY STORAGE BATTERY FOR YOUR CAR

A dry battery that can be recharged if necessary. Every automobile owner will be interested in knowing about the

HARSHA

DRY STORAGE BATTERY

Which Eliminates All Wet Battery Troubles

MAIN GARAGE

A. MAPLETHORPE, Prop.
Antioch, Ill.

AFFAIRS of

ANATOL

Fri. and Sat., Dec. 2 and 3

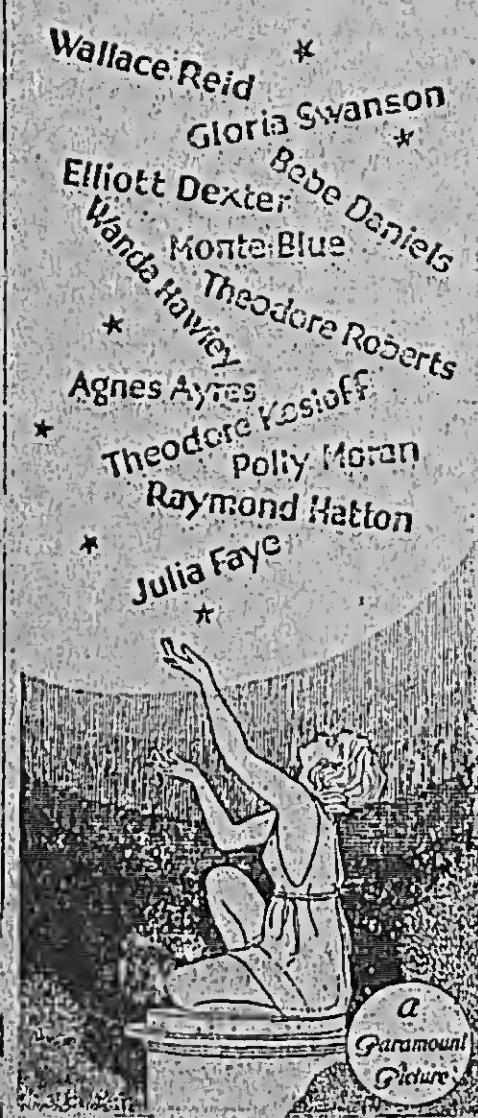

The greatest all-star picture ever made—and it's in 9 parts. It is a screen masterpiece filled with keen satire, tense drama, and great heart appeal. Its gripping qualities make it the greatest picture ever shown. Admission 44c and 22c. First show starts at 7 sharp. Don't be sorry—see it.

Sunday, Dec. 4 — Elaine Hammerstein in "THE DAUGHTER PAYS"

Wednesday, Dec. 7 — George Larkin in "MAN TRACKERS"
7th chapter of "WINNERS OF THE WEST"

"Kazan," "The Fox," "A Man's Home" and Priscilla Dean in "Conflict" are other big attractions to appear

AT THE CRYSTAL

CECIL B. DeMILLE'S
"The Affairs of Anatol"
With an all Star Cast

WAR

On the Bread Situation of Antioch

Ask Me and I'll Tell You Why?

Fresh Bread, every day . . . . .	12c	Butter, Fancy Creamery, per lb . . . . .	45c
2 loaves for 23c

Minnesota White Potatoes, in 5 bushel lots or more. Saturday only, per bushel . . . . .	$1.40
---	--------

Sunbeam Milk, tall cans . . . . .	11c
Red Cross Spaghetti, pkg . . . . .	8c
Prepared Spaghetti, with tomato sauce . . . . .	9c
Mixed Cookies, lb. . . . .	16c
Fancy Eating Apples, all kinds, lb . . . . .	8c
10 Bars P. & G. Soap 39c, with every $2 grocery order, sugar, butter, eggs, fruits and vegetables excluded.

NORTH END GROCERY

Call Antioch 44 and have the North End at your door

Petitions of Milk Producers Do Not Meet With Favor

(Continued from Page 1)

that upward of 20,000 have withdrawn from their organization and are forming separate organizations much to their disadvantage. The same kind of reports come from Twin Lake.

It is again pointed out by those who are well versed in organization work that the breaking up of the Marketing Co. will be a blow that the farmers will not recover from for some time and will bring about the objective of certain interests not in favor of any organization of dairymen. On the whole it would be well, according to those in the know, for the farmers to get behind the Marketing Co. and pull it out of its present position. Support of this kind is now materializing in different localities, several already having sent in resolutions to that effect. It would not be amiss for the Antioch local to get on the band wagon and take action on this matter one way or the other, and as the attempt of some members to swing the support of this local to the Milk Producers was not a success it is no more than justice that to allow its members to give their views as to what action they want to take in regard to the Marketing Co., which has not been given.

The following communication speaks for itself as to the possibilities of a Marketing Company.

Crystal Lake, Ill., Nov. 14, 1921.

Mr. E. C. Reckwell, Chicago, Ill., Editor Milk News, Dear Editor:

I have just returned from a hurried trip to Vancouver, B. C., and a visit to that great little valley, the Fraser Valley. This valley is 75 miles long and 25 miles wide, containing 1,875 square miles of very rich farm land. There are 3,000 farmers in the valley; about 2,000 of these are in the dairy industry commercially, milking from a few cows to all that their farms will carry. There are about 48,000 cows in the valley, which produced last year 270,000,000 pounds of milk. Fifty per cent of this milk goes into the city of Vancouver to be consumed in the raw state, and fifty per cent is manufactured into other products, butter, cheese, cream and evaporated milk. There are three condensaries in the district, one of which is owned by the Borden Condensed Milk Co., but has been standing idle for nearly six months. The other two are owned by the Pacific Condensed Milk Co., and one of these is not operating just now. There are some creameries in the valley owned and operated by the Fraser Valley Milk Producers association. There are about 1,500 members in this organization. They have a capital stock fully paid up of $500,000, own and are operating a retail business in Vancouver, handling 60,000 pounds of milk per day, operating 60 wagons with about 100 horses. This farmers' company is doing the largest retail and wholesale business in the city, and that successfully. Their secretary stated that they would net $125,000 this year.

The association sells nearly all of the milk produced in the valley and has 90 per cent of the producers signed up on perpetual contracts which no man can get out from under short of a one-year notice. All milk is pooled, regardless of what it is sold for or into what it is put or manufactured. This winter is their short milk season. They insist that all manufacturers must surrender a part of their milk, if needed, for the raw milk consumption during this short milk period.

This is way just now one of the Pacific Co's. plants is closed. The reason Borden's plant is closed is that they and Borden could not agree on a price for the milk, so none was delivered to them. Borden are trying to sell this plant.

The producers predict for this valley a great future in the production of milk. There is no severe winter there such as we know of and cows thrive and produce to a degree such as we cannot appreciate in this climate. The inhabitants are mostly Scotch, with a mixture of English. They are fine farmers and dairymen. Silage is being put up and fed quite abundantly. Corn forms the base of most of the silage, although much silage is made out a mixture of oats, peas and vetch. Many root crops are grown and fed to cows, sheep and horses.

We were most royally received and treated during the time we were there, and hope some day to go back again. The trip across and back was to us very wonderful. We went by way of the Milwaukee and St. Paul and returned by way of the Canadian Pacific, and were gone just two weeks.

Sincerely yours,
W. J. KITTLE.

Sand Shoes Are Invented.
Shoes with wide wooden soles having projecting points are an English invention for persons who walk on sand that would engulf ordinary shoes.

NEWS BRIEFS OF INTEREST TO COMMUNITY

Commercial fishermen have signed a contract with the state fish commission to remove carp and buffalo from the Fox river and are now seining in that vicinity. Warden William Spencer of Batavia has been assigned to the task of supervising the job, and under the agreement only the coarser species are removed, all game fish being returned to the water. The seiners commenced operations near the source of the river and will work south to St. Charles.

Catherine Hogan of Chicago, but formerly a Wadsworth resident, last week filed in the circuit court, through her attorney, E. V. Orvis, the praecipe in a $2,000 suit for damages against the Lake County Board of Agriculture.—Waukegan Sun.

Frank Dammert was badly injured last week Monday when he fell down a hay chute in the barn at the Harry Osmond farm southeast of Richmond. He was considerably bruised and his back was badly broken. He is recovering but will be lame for some time.

Geo. Waters lately of this village and Miss Helen Dietz of Fremont, took out a license to wed in Waukegan last Monday. Mr. Waters just recently came here from Antioch where he has been employed. He was in the navy during the war and served as a chef on one of the big boats. It is understood that the couple will make their home in Grayslake.—Grayslake Times.

The promotion of the Rt. Rev. Alexander J. McGavick, auxiliary bishop of the archdiocese of Chicago, and whose home is in Libertyville, to be bishop of the diocese of LaCrosse, Wis., was announced. Bishop McGavick was ordained a priest in 1887 and consecrated auxiliary bishop of Chicago in 1899. He is pastor of the Holy Angels church on Oakwood blvd. Bishop McGavick was born at Fox Lake, Ill., August 22, 1863, and graduated from St. Victor's college.

John R. Thompson, well known resident of Libertyville, may become a candidate for congress-at-large at the April primary. His friends are urging him to allow his name to go on the ticket.

Orders from foreign countries for several thousands of Woodstock typewriters has caused the company to issue notice that the factory will be run on full time and full force from now on.

Channel Lake School

We enjoyed two days Thanksgiving vacation.

Adrian, Harold and Elmer Rudolph were absent from school Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Thompson and Claire spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Chicago.

Elmer Brinkman from Quincy was a guest at the Miller home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts entertained friends Thanksgiving.

Mr. Kasper purchased a new Ford sedan last week.

Philip Hansen spent the week-end with his wife and family.

Donald Woelner went to Chicago to the fat stock show with the other members of the Agriculture class of the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe and children of Chicago spent a few days at their home at Lake Catherine.

Oakland School

Ruth Minto, Editor

We are thankful that we have a new school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sheehan entertained relatives over Sunday.

Miss Madalyn Sheehan spent over Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer entertained Chicago relatives the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hughes spent Thanksgiving with Libertyville relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Minto spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Minto's brother near Union Grove.

Mr. Simpson visited school last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Christensen were in Waukegan Monday.

The furnace was put in the school house Saturday.

Miss McAnn attended the institute last Saturday in Waukegan where Miss Lee taught the making of reed baskets.

Wallace Reid Runs Amuck! $30,000 Gone

Securing $30,000 worth of furniture for a single interior setting and then smashing the outfit before the camera produces photoplay realism, but at a well-nigh prohibitive cost. Yet that is what Cecil B. DeMille did in his production, "The Affairs of Annot," which will be shown at the Crystal theatre next Friday and Saturday.

The setting in question serves as a background for a part of the story portrayed by Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bebe Daniels, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts and other all-star players. It is an ultra-luxurious apartment and Howard Higgin, production manager for Cecil B. DeMille productions, was instructed to spare no expense.

The result was an attractive suite, designed by Paul Iribé, furnished with approximately $30,000 worth of furniture. This included a valuable set of Louis XVI chairs, a magnificent carved photograph case of unique design, a grand piano, lamps, mirrors, tables, a desk, lounges, pictures and bric-a-brac.

At the climax of this episode, Wallace Reid was instructed to run amuck, smashing everything breakable in the set. The orders were comprehensive and Reid obeyed them to the letter. Not one stick of furniture remained in its original shape when the vandalism was complete. Using the small pieces of furniture as bludgeons, Reid shattered everything in sight while the camera clicked just out of range of his blows. Mirrors, lamps, chairs, phonograph and piano were demolished one by one. As a conclusion to the scene, the husky star seized the huge overstuffed divan and hurled it bodily through the French doors at one end of the set.

Hickory School

Pauline Pullen and Clara Christensen were absent Monday.

Fred Pullen was absent Tuesday afternoon.

Kjeld and Oscar Nielsen were perfect in spelling last week.

Lillian Wells and Billie Nielsen were perfect in Arithmetic last week.

Wd did not have school Thursday and Friday of last week.

Miss Drom spent Thanksgiving with her sister Margaret at Champaign.

LAUNDRY

Family Wash a Specialty
Rough Dry or Wet Wash
W. S. GOLDWIRE

The Local Telephone Directory

Goes to Press Soon

In the interest of good service subscribers are requested to call

The Telephone Company

and give notice of any changes or corrections that should be made in their listings

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Adjudication Notice

Public notice is hereby given that the subscriber, executor of the Last Will and Testament of John Sedlacek, deceased, will attend the county court of Lake county, at a term thereof to be holden at the Court House in Waukegan, in said county, on the first Monday of April next, 1922, when and where all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to present the same to said court for adjudication.

Frank Sedlacek,
Executor as aforesaid.
Waukegan, Ill., November 14, 1921.
E. M. Runyard, Attorney. 11w3

Old English Farthing

The farthing is an old English coin, coined in silver first by King John. The Irish farthing of his reign bears the date of 1210 and it is valuable because it is so rare.

Lotus Camp No. 557, M.W.A.

Meets at 7:30 the first and third Monday evening of every month in the Woodman Hall, Antioch, Ill. Visiting neighbors always welcome.

RD. GARRETT, Clerk. CHAS. RUNYARD, V. C.

Sequoia Lodge No. 827, A. F. & A. M.

Holds regular communications the first and third Tuesday evenings of each month. Visiting Brethren always welcome.

F. E. HUBBELL, Secy. A. ROSENFELD, W. M.

The Western Star meets second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

LOUISE SMART, W. M. JULIA ROSENFELD, Sec.

Lakeside Rebecca Lodge, No. 82

will meet the First and Third Fridays of each month.

I. O. O. F. LODGE

Holds Regular Communications the first and third Thursday evening. Visiting Brethren always welcome.

C. R. RUNYARD, N. G. W. W. RUNYARD, Secretary.

L. G. STRANG

Licensed Embalmer and
Funeral Director
ANTIOCH, ILL.

Both Illinois and Wisconsin
License

PHONE 118-R
ALSO FARMERS LINE

"It's Just Splendid"

The visitor's exclamation applies not only to the tastiness and attractiveness of the interior finish. It denotes also her hearty approval of our method of helping the prospective builder in making the proper selection of materials.

Ideas for Interior Finish

Come in before you build or remodel and let us show you our many modern building plans. We know you can find just the sort of arrangement you like.

And we are sure that we can save you money on the material besides giving you the best.

FOR SERVICE TRY THE

Antioch Lumber & Coal Co.

Antioch

KNOX-CHOLERA

Gets this name because it destroys all worms and all germs and if hogs had no worms there would be no cholera. One quart is sufficient for 100 hogs. Price $5 per quart. You can use it according to directions in a bunch of sick hogs or chickens they say have cholera or other disease and if it don't stop them from dying in six days and save 95% of the sick ones return the remainder and get your money for it. We raise more Spotted Poland hogs and more chickens than anyone we know of and know what Knox-Cholera will do. Write for free information on this new discovery. Box 427, Gallatin, Mo.

Electric Appliances are Ideal Christmas Presents

Their variety is large. From the list something most suitable for any member of the family or any friend can be selected. We sell them at the

Lowest Prices

There's always a large buying movement at this time of the year and often its effect is to render some articles scarce. The lesson is

Shop Early

Public Service Co.
OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Contracting and Building

Anything in building line. Brick, tile, frame or stucco work.

Satisfaction guaranteed

John Meyer
Lake Villa, Ill.
Phone 105-J

T. N. DONNELLY & CO.

Loan and

DIAMOND

Broker

Diamonds, watches and all kinds of jewelry at less than cost, at half the price you pay regular stores.

20 North Dearborn Street, Chicago

INGALLS CO.

Jewelers and Opticians

112 North Genesee Street
Waukegan

Established 1857

JEWELRY
DIAMOND MOUNTING
WATCH REPAIRING

FRED W. FUNK FRED H. FALL
Proprietors

As a Christmas Gift

a nice box of stationery with initials and address imprinted are as nice as any one could wish. Place your order now to insure Christmas delivery.

THE ANTIOCH PRESS,
Antioch, Illinois

LOTS FOR SALE

Want to Clean Up Property

Kindling Wood $2 per Load

Second-Hand Lumber and 4-ply Roofing Paper at Half Cost

Loon Lake Improvement Co.

L. J. SLOCUM AUCTIONEER

Wadsworth, Ill.

Long Distance Phone
Antioch 168-W1

Farmers Line

The Same Old Backache!

Does every day bring the same old backache? Do you drag along with your back a dull aching ache? Do you find you "play all day"? Don't be discouraged! Realize it is merely a sign you haven't taken good care of yourself. This has probably strained your kidneys. Take things easier for a while and help your kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Then the backache, dizziness, headaches, tired feeling and bladder troubles will go. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

An Illinois Case

Clark Ave., Effingham, Ill., says: "My back was weak and ached, and when I stooped over a sharp pain caught me across my kidneys. I had headaches and often became dizzy and my sight blurred. My kidneys were weak and acted unaccountably. I took Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and bought a box. They relieved me of the aching ache and a healthy condition."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 60c a Box

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Vaseline Carbolated

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

PETROLEUM JELLY

A convenient safe antiseptic for home use. Invaluable for dressing cuts and sores. A time-tried remedy.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

CHESEBROUGH MFG. CO.

State Street, New York

DR. STAFFORD'S olive tar

heals sore throat. Don't cough all night—a few drops gives quick relief. Never fails.

HALL & RUCKEL, INC.

147 Waverly Place, New York

Wise Youngster.

Mother—Oh, Bobby, here you are again with your clothes in a perfect mess.

Bobby (in tears)—I was playing and Willie Mays threw a stone and splattered me all over.

Mother—Well, what are you crying about? Is it painful to be covered with mud?

Bobby—No, but I thought if I came in laughing you would whip me.—Boston Transcript.

God His Thought.

When daddy returned home from work he asked Buddy what was the matter with his lip.

"Nothing," he answered, "only John hit me."

"Well, what did you do to him that caused him to hit you?" asked father, quite interested.

"Nothing," Buddy answered, "I missed him."

Punishing the Fraction.

Pat caught a youngster stealing his apples. As he was a persistent offender Pat decided to punish him, so he laid the boy across his knee.

Another youngster who was hanging around said: "Don't beat him, mister, he's not to blame."

"Why isn't he to blame?" asked Pat.

"Polks say he's not all there."

"Well," said Patrick, "I can't help that. I'll just lick what there is of him."

A Great Tactician.

"Cousin Margaret hides her deafness with great wit." "How?" "She talks all the time."—Boston Transcript.

Whatever one wants to do, he thinks out the "reasons" for it later on.

MURINE Night and Morning

Has Strong, Healthy Eyes. If they're Itchy, Smarten Burn, It Sore, Irritated, Inflamed or Granulated, use Murine often. Soothes, Refreshes. Safe for Infants and Adults. At all Druggists. Write for Free Eye Book. Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago

The Mystery of the Silver Dagger

By RANDALL PARRISH

Author of "The Strange Case of Cavendish"

Illustrations by A. Weil

Copyright, by Randall Parrish

CHAPTER IX—Continued.

"Say, where the hell have you been? What is this, a double-cross, Waldron?"

"What you mean?" ejaculated the other. "My Gott! It is rather you I should ask why you not tell me the truth?"

"Tell you! What the devil have I got to tell you? Don't get funny with me. You sent me a note this morning, didn't you?"

"Sure I did."

"Well, then, why didn't you meet me? D—n it, I've been hunting you all day long. What's the idea? Come, blurt it out, before I wring your d—n Jew neck."

Waldron spread his hands, and lifted his shoulders in an expression more eloquent than words.

"What a man! You cuss me, but not wait to hear why this all was so. You sit down, and I tell you. Then maybe you tell me something else."

Harris stared at him, then scowling the vacant chair opposite, still scowling angrily across the table. A waiter paused at his elbow expectantly, and in response to something said, the thief jerked out a surly answer.

"No, I don't want anything to eat. Bring me some whisky—a half pint—with a little water. Yes, that's all; now get out of here."

At this moment Francois returned with our final course, obliging us to appear indifferent to the quarrel raging beyond the curtains. Both men must have lowered their voices, for our ears caught nothing of what was said. It seemed to me the waiter was unusually slow in rearranging the table.

"There, that will do, Francois. I broke out, at last, impatiently. 'We will wait nothing else at present. When I need you again I will ring. That is the bell, I presume.'

"Oui, M'sieur."

"All right; then leave us alone for a while."

Neither one of us touched a thing, the coffee growing cold in the cups, as we endeavored to distinguish what was going on at that second table out in the main dining room. I came around beside her, to where I could peer out also beneath the curtain fold, and thus gain glimpses of the two men. They were talking earnestly, but had lowered their voices, until they were nearly inaudible and the din of the place. The anger and threat had gone out of both voices; but only occasionally could we weave together words into an understandable sentence; these came to us detached, unrelated, as the surrounding noise ceased suddenly, or the music came to a pause.

"You didn't get it! Then who the hell did? Me, I should say no; why I never knew the old man had even slipped him the dough. That d—n girl rode down with him. Of course I do; I saw them go out together; that's why I thought I was playing safe to keep away. Somebody has played us for suckers. If you had kept your d—n mouth shut we'd a-had it easy."

Waldron broke in, stung by this last taunt into elevating his voice.

"What you mean, I keep my mouth shut? So help me, Moses, I tell no body."

"The hell you didn't! You blabbed the whole thing to Daly. He told me so himself. That's what I was doing last night, blabbing him out."

"I tell Daly? Where you got that? I ain't seen Daly for three years. Was he in this deal? Why you not tell me of Daly before?"

"Tell you! I never knew it until he told me."

A waiter brushed past him, bearing a tray, striking against one shoulder as he passed. Harris glanced up with a snarling oath, and before I realized the danger, his eyes must have caught a glimpse of me beneath the draped curtain. Instantly the fellow was on his feet, all else forgotten in a swift wave of passion.

"There's the guy now!" he burst forth. "He's hiding in that booth; I saw him. Come on, and we'll have the stiff cough up yet!"

I drew back swiftly, pushing the girl behind me. There was no place in which to hide, no chance for escape. Perhaps I could explain, but if not, then I must fight. The two came plunging through the opening and faced us, the heavy curtains dropping behind them and shutting out all view beyond. Harris, inflamed by drink, glared about as though doubting the evidence of his own eyes, but his expression was that of savage hatred.

"If I, if they ain't both of 'em here! Say, this is rich. So you two are in cahoots, hey? Thought you'd play me for a d—n fool, did you, Daly? Well, I'll show you what you're up against— you and yer girl. Come now, where's that boddy?"

"I know nothing about it, Harris."

"You're a liar. This dame went away with Alvin in his car. I saw her go out with him. You cough up, both of you, and he d—n quick about it, or you'll never get out of here without a hole through you. You think you can double-cross me; I'll show you a trick of my own!"

He was reaching for his gun. It must have caught in his pocket, though I wasted no time. It was his life or mine, and I gripped the empty wine bottle on the table and smashed a vicious blow at his head. He went down like a log, his body half projecting through the curtains, while I wheeled about barely in time to meet the mad bull rush of Waldron. The Russian could not have been armed, for he came at me with bare hands, his grip like that of a bear. For an instant he had me throttled, scarcely able to breathe, my hands pinned helplessly in the grasp of his arms. But brute strength was all he possessed, brute strength and ferocity. The bottle was crushed out of my fingers, yet I wriggled partially free, and got one hand twisted into his whiskers, jerking his head back, and side-wise, until the strained neck threatened to crack, and he had to release his grip to protect himself. It was all over in a minute, but hot while it lasted; I knew we struck against the girl, throwing her to her knees; I know the fellow stumbled over Harris' legs, giving me a chance to drive home one fist square into his face. I heard him rip out a Hebrew oath, and saw blood staining his lips. I tried to break away from him, but it was no use; yet the effort opened his guard for a swift uppercut, and I let him have it straight to the chin. He crashed back across the table, and hung there dangling, arms outspread and head in a broken dish. Before I could strike again, or even recover my breath, the curtains were thrust violently aside, and the head-waiter, backed by a half dozen subordinates, came tumbling in over Harris' head body. Even as they stared about, I helped the girl to her feet, and faced them.

"What happen here, M'sieur? What happen?" shrieked the excited Frenchman. "You keel ze men? What?"

"No, they're just knocked out. A little private affair, that's all," I said, too exhausted to speak clearly. "See

CHAPTER X

The Proof of Murder—The Back Room of Coaligan's

I watched her through the glass doors until she vanished among the crowd in the lobby. I could not permit her to go away like this; to get beyond my sight and knowledge—yet I hesitated too long, until she had merged into the swirling crowd and was lost.

It was indeed a strange feeling of loneliness which swept over me in that moment. Never before had I felt such depth of interest in a woman, or experienced such regret at parting. With no apparent effort, seemingly utterly indifferent, she had nevertheless become intertwined with my life, her presence a necessity for my happiness. The soft pressure of her body, the touch of her hand, was intoxication; the glance of her eyes sent the warm blood pulsing through my veins. She had become to me an inspiration, a memory to dream over, a hope no longer to be resisted.

This was strange, so strange as to be beyond understanding. I argued it with myself, but to no result. The fact would not be denied. Here was an unknown woman, original and beautiful, to be sure, yet one whose very identity was shrouded in mystery. To all appearances she was actively engaged in conspiracy against the government of Chile, in a crime against human life. She was unquestionably the authorized agent of a gang of revolutionary plotters—I had witnessed their reception of her as one of their own, and could not doubt the evidence of my own eyes. She had borne them instructions, and stood in their midst, in secret conclave, speaking as one having authority. More than that, even, she had refused to deny this connection, to reveal her name, or acknowledge any other purpose. She had used me to further her ends, whatever they might be, preying upon my personal interest in her, and yet refusing to lift a single fold of this curtain of mystery.

What could it mean, but that she was secretly ashamed to permit of my full understanding? The thought of the stolen money, the murder of Alva, recurred to me; the invitation I had overheard for her to accompany him on his fatal trip, and her acceptance; the positive assertion of Harris that she had done so; her confessed knowledge that the money had actually been given into the possession of the Chilean captain; the nature of the weapon with which he had been killed; her remaining in New York instead of returning to Washington. I could not blot these things out, no matter how hard I endeavored to reconcile them with her denial. I trusted her; I would continue to trust her against the world, yet deep down in my heart lingered a question unanswered. If she was honest, square, actuated by some worthy purpose, why did she still refuse to confide in me? Surely I had been sufficiently tested—and she knew who I was. If she was the sister of a classmate whom I knew and loved, what necessity remained for the concealment of her name? What, indeed, except shame at the part she was playing in this sordid drama of life? Some of my earlier suspicion had been eradicated, for now it was clearly demonstrated that it could not have been her knife which had pierced Alva's heart. Whatever else I might believe against her, this evidence no longer existed, for she still wore the dagger in her hand. Peculiar as the design was, the weapon locked in my valise, which I had picked up blood-stained on the floor of the car, was not hers; it had been welded in its deadly work by some other hand. But whose? Did she know? Did she even suspect the assassin? Was she even now endeavoring to conceal his identity? These questions were unanswerable; I could only partially drive them back by memory of the girl herself; it was impossible to recall her vividly to mind, and yet associate her with so foul a crime.

I was still immersed in such thoughts, mentally struggling for her honor, and my own justification, when I finally attained the quiet of my room. I was squarely up against a stone wall; there was no light perceptible anywhere. Neither Harris nor Waldron was guilty of this crime; they were obliterated from further consideration. These two worthies had undoubtedly done their best, but had been outgeneraled by some one else; and, whoever that other might be, he had made a clear getaway, leaving not even a lurking suspicion behind him. It was the job of a master-thief, an expert in crime—or else had been accomplished through the blind luck of some one whose very identity cloaked any possibility of suspicion.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It is a poor policy to buy books for the sake of the colored covers, or to make friends for the sake of their clothes.

When love meanders down the avenue common sense sneaks up an alley.

She may not have been altogether pleased with my answer, for she said no more until we drew up at the hotel entrance. She waited while I settled with the chauffeur, and we crossed the wide pavement together.

"It may be best for you not to come in; one never knows."

"This is not a final parting, I hope?"

"Perhaps so, perhaps not. You do not wholly trust me. Some day I mean you shall. Good-night."

I felt her hand in mine, just for a moment; then the doors opened and closed, leaving me alone.

CHAPTER X

The Proof of Murder—The Back Room of Coaligan's

I watched her through the glass doors until she vanished among the crowd in the lobby. I could not permit her to go away like this; to get beyond my sight and knowledge—yet I hesitated too long, until she had merged into the swirling crowd and was lost.

It was indeed a strange feeling of loneliness which swept over me in that moment. Never before had I felt such depth of interest in a woman, or experienced such regret at parting. With no apparent effort, seemingly utterly indifferent, she had nevertheless become intertwined with my life, her presence a necessity for my happiness. The soft pressure of her body, the touch of her hand, was intoxication; the glance of her eyes sent the warm blood pulsing through my veins. She had become to me an inspiration, a memory to dream over, a hope no longer to be resisted.

This was strange, so strange as to be beyond understanding. I argued it with myself, but to no result. The fact would not be denied. Here was an unknown woman, original and beautiful, to be sure, yet one whose very identity was shrouded in mystery. To all appearances she was actively engaged in conspiracy against the government of Chile, in a crime against human life. She was unquestionably the authorized agent of a gang of revolutionary plotters—I had witnessed their reception of her as one of their own, and could not doubt the evidence of my own eyes. She had borne them instructions, and stood in their midst, in secret conclave, speaking as one having authority. More than that, even, she had refused to deny this connection, to reveal her name, or acknowledge any other purpose. She had used me to further her ends, whatever they might be, preying upon my personal interest in her, and yet refusing to lift a single fold of this curtain of mystery.

What could it mean, but that she was secretly ashamed to permit of my full understanding? The thought of the stolen money, the murder of Alva, recurred to me; the invitation I had overheard for her to accompany him on his fatal trip, and her acceptance; the positive assertion of Harris that she had done so; her confessed knowledge that the money had actually been given into the possession of the Chilean captain; the nature of the weapon with which he had been killed; her remaining in New York instead of returning to Washington. I could not blot these things out, no matter how hard I endeavored to reconcile them with her denial. I trusted her; I would continue to trust her against the world, yet deep down in my heart lingered a question unanswered. If she was honest, square, actuated by some worthy purpose, why did she still refuse to confide in me? Surely I had been sufficiently tested—and she knew who I was. If she was the sister of a classmate whom I knew and loved, what necessity remained for the concealment of her name? What, indeed, except shame at the part she was playing in this sordid drama of life? Some of my earlier suspicion had been eradicated, for now it was clearly demonstrated that it could not have been her knife which had pierced Alva's heart. Whatever else I might believe against her, this evidence no longer existed, for she still wore the dagger in her hand. Peculiar as the design was, the weapon locked in my valise, which I had picked up blood-stained on the floor of the car, was not hers; it had been welded in its deadly work by some other hand. But whose? Did she know? Did she even suspect the assassin? Was she even now endeavoring to conceal his identity? These questions were unanswerable; I could only partially drive them back by memory of the girl herself; it was impossible to recall her vividly to mind, and yet associate her with so foul a crime.

I was still immersed in such thoughts, mentally struggling for her honor, and my own justification, when I finally attained the quiet of my room. I was squarely up against a stone wall; there was no light perceptible anywhere. Neither Harris nor Waldron was guilty of this crime; they were obliterated from further consideration. These two worthies had undoubtedly done their best, but had been outgeneraled by some one else; and, whoever that other might be, he had made a clear getaway, leaving not even a lurking suspicion behind him. It was the job of a master-thief, an expert in crime—or else had been accomplished through the blind luck of some one whose very identity cloaked any possibility of suspicion.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It is a poor policy to buy books for the sake of the colored covers, or to make friends for the sake of their clothes.

When love meanders down the avenue common sense sneaks up an alley.

She may not have been altogether pleased with my answer, for she said no more until we drew up at the hotel entrance. She waited while I settled with the chauffeur, and we crossed the wide pavement together.

"It may be best for you not to come in; one never knows."

"This is not a final parting, I hope?"

"Perhaps so, perhaps not. You do not wholly trust me. Some day I mean you shall. Good-night."

I felt her hand in mine, just for a moment; then the doors opened and closed, leaving me alone.

CHAPTER X

The Proof of Murder—The Back Room of Coaligan's

I watched her through the glass doors until she vanished among the crowd in the lobby. I could not permit her to go away like this; to get beyond my sight and knowledge—yet I hesitated too long, until she had merged into the swirling crowd and was lost.

It was indeed a strange feeling of loneliness which swept over me in that moment. Never before had I felt such depth of interest in a woman, or experienced such regret at parting. With no apparent effort, seemingly utterly indifferent, she had nevertheless become intertwined with my life, her presence a necessity for my happiness. The soft pressure of her body, the touch of her hand, was intoxication; the glance of her eyes sent the warm blood pulsing through my veins. She had become to me an inspiration, a memory to dream over, a hope no longer to be resisted.

This was strange, so strange as to be beyond understanding. I argued it with myself, but to no result. The fact would not be denied. Here was an unknown woman, original and beautiful, to be sure, yet one whose very identity was shrouded in mystery. To all appearances she was actively engaged in conspiracy against the government of Chile, in a crime against human life. She was unquestionably the authorized agent of a gang of revolutionary plotters—I had witnessed their reception of her as one of their own, and could not doubt the evidence of my own eyes. She had borne them instructions, and stood in their midst, in secret conclave, speaking as one having authority. More than that, even, she had refused to deny this connection, to reveal her name, or acknowledge any other purpose. She had used me to further her ends, whatever they might be, preying upon my personal interest in her, and yet refusing to lift a single fold of this curtain of mystery.

What could it mean, but that she was secretly ashamed to permit of my full understanding? The thought of the stolen money, the murder of Alva, recurred to me; the invitation I had overheard for her to accompany him on his fatal trip, and her acceptance; the positive assertion of Harris that she had done so; her confessed knowledge that the money had actually been given into the possession of the Chilean captain; the nature of the weapon with which he had been killed; her remaining in New York instead of returning to Washington. I could not blot these things out, no matter how hard I endeavored to reconcile them with her denial. I trusted her; I would continue to trust her against the world, yet deep down in my heart lingered a question unanswered. If she was honest, square, actuated by some worthy purpose, why did she still refuse to confide in me? Surely I had been sufficiently tested—and she knew who I was. If she was the sister of a classmate whom I knew and loved, what necessity remained for the concealment of her name? What, indeed, except shame at the part she was playing in this sordid drama of life? Some of my earlier suspicion had been eradicated, for now it was clearly demonstrated that it could not have been her knife which had pierced Alva's heart. Whatever else I might believe against her, this evidence no longer existed, for she still wore the dagger in her hand. Peculiar as the design was, the weapon locked in my valise, which I had picked up blood-stained on the floor of the car, was not hers; it had been welded in its deadly work by some other hand. But whose? Did she know? Did she even suspect the assassin? Was she even now endeavoring to conceal his identity? These questions were unanswerable; I could only partially drive them back by memory of the girl herself; it was impossible to recall her vividly to mind, and yet associate her with so foul a crime.

I was still immersed in such thoughts, mentally struggling for her honor, and my own justification, when I finally attained the quiet of my room. I was squarely up against a stone wall; there was no light perceptible anywhere. Neither Harris nor Waldron was guilty of this crime; they were obliterated from further consideration. These two worthies had undoubtedly done their best, but had been outgeneraled by some one else; and, whoever that other might be, he had made a clear getaway, leaving not even a lurking suspicion behind him. It was the job of a master-thief, an expert in crime—or else had been accomplished through the blind luck of some one whose very identity cloaked any possibility of suspicion.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It is a poor policy to buy books for the sake of the colored covers, or to make friends for the sake of their clothes.

When love meanders down the avenue common sense sneaks up an alley.

She may not have been altogether pleased with my answer, for she said no more until we drew up at the hotel entrance. She waited while I settled with the chauffeur, and we crossed the wide pavement together.

"It may be best for you not to come in; one never knows."

"This is not a final parting, I hope?"

"Perhaps so, perhaps not. You do not wholly trust me. Some day I mean you shall. Good-night."

I felt her hand in mine, just for a moment; then the doors opened and closed, leaving me alone.

CHAPTER X

The Proof of Murder—The Back Room of Coaligan's

I watched her through the glass doors until she vanished among the crowd in the lobby. I could not permit her to go away like this; to get beyond my sight and knowledge—yet I hesitated too long, until she had merged into the swirling crowd and was lost.

It was indeed a strange feeling of loneliness which swept over me in that moment. Never before had I felt such depth of interest in a woman, or experienced such regret at parting. With no apparent effort, seemingly utterly indifferent, she had nevertheless become intertwined with my life, her presence a necessity for my happiness. The soft pressure of her body, the touch of her hand, was intoxication; the glance of her eyes sent the warm blood pulsing through my veins. She had become to me an inspiration, a memory to dream over, a hope no longer to be resisted.

This was strange, so strange as to be beyond understanding. I argued it with myself, but to no result. The fact would not be denied. Here was an unknown woman, original and beautiful, to be sure, yet one whose very identity was shrouded in mystery. To all appearances she was actively engaged in conspiracy against the government of Chile, in a crime against human life. She was unquestionably the authorized agent of a gang of revolutionary plotters—I had witnessed their reception of her as one of their own, and could not doubt the evidence of my own eyes. She had borne them instructions, and stood in their midst, in secret conclave, speaking as one having authority. More than that, even, she had refused to deny this connection, to reveal her name, or acknowledge any other purpose. She had used me to further her ends, whatever they might be, preying upon my personal interest in her, and yet refusing to lift a single fold of this curtain of mystery.

What could it mean, but that she was secretly ashamed to permit of my full understanding? The thought of the stolen money, the murder of Alva, recurred to me; the invitation I had overheard for her to accompany him on his fatal trip, and her acceptance; the positive assertion of Harris that she had done so; her confessed knowledge that the money had actually been given into the possession of the Chilean captain; the nature of the weapon with which he had been killed; her remaining in New York instead of returning to Washington. I could not blot these things out, no matter how hard I endeavored to reconcile them with her denial. I trusted her; I would continue to trust her against the world, yet deep down in my heart lingered a question unanswered. If she was honest, square, actuated by some worthy purpose, why did she still refuse to confide in me? Surely I had been sufficiently tested—and she knew who I was. If she was the sister of a classmate whom I knew and loved, what necessity remained for the concealment of her name? What, indeed, except shame at the part she was playing in this sordid drama of life? Some of my earlier suspicion had been eradicated, for now it was clearly demonstrated that it could not have been her knife which had pierced Alva's heart. Whatever else I might believe against her, this evidence no longer existed, for she still wore the dagger in her hand. Peculiar as the design was, the weapon locked in my valise, which I had picked up blood-stained on the floor of the car, was not hers; it had been welded in its deadly work by some other hand. But whose? Did she know? Did she even suspect the assassin? Was she even now endeavoring to conceal his identity? These questions were unanswerable; I could only partially drive them back by memory of the girl herself; it was impossible to recall her vividly to mind, and yet associate her with so foul a crime.

I was still immersed in such thoughts, mentally struggling for her honor, and my own justification, when I finally attained the quiet of my room. I was squarely up against a stone wall; there was no light perceptible anywhere. Neither Harris nor Waldron was guilty of this crime; they were obliterated from further consideration. These two worthies had undoubtedly done their best, but had been outgeneraled by some one else; and, whoever that other might be, he had made a clear getaway, leaving not even a lurking suspicion behind him. It was the job of a master-thief, an expert in crime—or else had been accomplished through the blind luck of some one whose very identity cloaked any possibility of suspicion.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It is a poor policy to buy books for the sake of the colored covers, or to make friends for the sake of their clothes.

When love meanders down the avenue common sense sneaks up an alley.

She may not have been altogether pleased with my answer, for she said no more until we drew up at the hotel entrance. She waited while I settled with the chauffeur, and we crossed the wide pavement together.

"It may be best for you not to come in; one never knows."

"This is not a final parting, I hope?"

"Perhaps so, perhaps not. You do not wholly trust me. Some day I mean you shall. Good-night."

I felt her hand in mine, just for a moment; then the doors opened and closed, leaving me alone.

CHAPTER X

The Proof of Murder—The Back Room of Coaligan's

I watched her through the glass doors until she vanished among the crowd in the lobby. I could not permit her to go away like this; to get beyond my sight and knowledge—yet I hesitated too long, until she had merged into the swirling crowd and was lost.

It was indeed a strange feeling of loneliness which swept over me in that moment. Never before had I felt such depth of interest in a woman, or experienced such regret at parting. With no apparent effort, seemingly utterly indifferent, she had nevertheless become intertwined with my life, her presence a necessity for my happiness. The soft pressure of her body, the touch of her hand, was intoxication; the glance of her eyes sent the warm blood pulsing through my veins. She had become to me an inspiration, a memory to dream over, a hope no longer to be resisted.

This was strange, so strange as to be beyond understanding. I argued it with myself, but to no result. The fact would not be denied. Here was an unknown woman, original and beautiful, to be sure, yet one whose very identity was shrouded in mystery. To all appearances she was actively engaged in conspiracy against the government of Chile, in a crime against human life. She was unquestionably the authorized agent of a gang of revolutionary plotters—I had witnessed their reception of her as one of their own, and could not doubt the evidence of my own eyes. She had borne them instructions, and stood in their midst, in secret conclave, speaking as one having authority. More than that, even, she had refused to deny this connection, to reveal her name, or acknowledge any other purpose. She had used me to further her ends, whatever they might be, preying upon my personal interest in her, and yet refusing to lift a single fold of this curtain of mystery.

What could it mean, but that she was secretly ashamed to permit of my full understanding? The thought of the stolen money, the murder of Alva, recurred to me; the invitation I had overheard for her to accompany him on

RURAL NEWS

LAKE VILLA

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. Will Weber spent last Thursday with the Mitchell family in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Lentzner of Port Washington, Wis., called on friends here last Friday.

Mrs. McCloskey accompanied her husband to the city Monday and spent the day there.

Mrs. Geo. Mitchell and daughter are spending the week with her parents. Mr. Mitchell was out for the week end.

F. Ballinger of Washington, D. C., is spending some time with the M. S. Miller family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murrell spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Murrell's parents near Russell.

Earl Potter and family of Hubbard Woods spent Thanksgiving with the home folks here.

Oscar Douglas and wife are moving this week to the flat over the Nadr living rooms.

Walter Douglas was home from Lake Forest college for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Pester spent over Thanksgiving with friends in Chicago.

Mr. Andrews, Mr. McCloskey's roommate at Evanston spent a few days last week at the parsonage.

The E. J. Lehmann, O. W. Lehmann and J. K. Dering horses are being exhibited at the stock show in Chicago this week.

Mr. Meinersman of Chicago has recently purchased a tract of land on Petite Lake, a part of the Pitman farm for $500 an acre. He is improving it extensively this fall by the setting out of shrubbery.

The Ladies Aid will hold their regular business meeting with Mrs. Paul Avery on Wednesday, Dec. 7. Every body is very welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Evanston and Mrs. Thayer remained for a few days visit.

Friends of the Rowling family who were former residents here, will be interested to hear of the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Eva, to Bert Clobb of Eugene, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooper went to Chicago to spend Thanksgiving with relatives there. Mrs. Hooper and children remained till Sunday evening.

Will all Royal Neighbors kindly keep in mind that all dues must be paid by the end of the year. On the next regular meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 13. Picnic dinner will be served at 1 o'clock and the will follow, the business of the day being election of officers. Kindly be present.

SALEM

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. McVicar visited Thanksgiving at the Evan Jones home at Bristol.

Miss Hazel VanAlstine returned home Wednesday after a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Smith at Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Acker entertained relatives over Thanksgiving.

The movies were well attended here Thanksgiving afternoon and evening.

Ray Burdick has been on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Paddock entertained relatives over Thanksgiving.

Chas. Curtiss was a Kenosha visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. Rosa Furel entertained friends from Kenosha Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith of Zion spent Thanksgiving with their parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Burdick.

Miss Florence Faden visited her sister Mrs. Madden at Kenosha over the week end.

Arthur Hartel and company returned home Wednesday from their northern hunting trip and while on the trip called on his sister, Mrs. Will Wood of Wilhe.

Mrs. Henry Faden visited her daughter, Mrs. Madden of Kenosha Monday.

Mrs. Loescher has sold her store to a party in Kenosha, who took possession the first of the week. Misses Loescher will run the post office until spring.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bairstow of Chicago were out over the week-end. Mrs. Ed VanAlstine accompanied them home for a week's visit.

Harold Edwards spent Thanksgiving with his parents at Woodworth.

TREVOR

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Letzer, of Chicago, spent part of the past week at Diana lodge and called on many of their old neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Uckle, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Filson were Kenosha shoppers, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cushing, of Chicago, were entertained at the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brower, over Thanksgiving.

Miss Margaret Myers went to Chicago Wednesday to spend several days with relatives and friends.

Miss Pollock spent Thanksgiving with her sister and father near Burlington.

Miss Dunkirk spent the Thanksgiving vacation with relatives in Union Grove.

The school children enjoyed a vacation Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. August Baethke and daughter Lillian went to Chicago Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with her parents.

Eddie Klipp is confined to his bed with a lame ankle.

Gretchen Yopp and friend, of Racine, spent Saturday and Sunday with Lucile Evans.

Mrs. Wm. Evans and Mrs. Ambrose Ranyard attended the Christmas sale of the St. Ignatius Guild held at Guild hall, Antioch, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hazelman ate Thanksgiving dinner with his parents in Silverlake.

Mrs. Otto Schenning, of Silverlake, was a Trevor caller, Friday.

Mrs. Flora Bloss and Miss Clara Bishop, of Salem, visited the Patrick sisters, Saturday.

The hunters who went north on a deer hunting trip, returned Monday. They were quite successful and now they and their friends are enjoying a treat.

Mrs. Ed. Filson entertained a number of friends at dinner Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Patrick spent Sunday with the latter's father, Wm. Winchell, who was ninety-three years old on Thanksgiving day.

Fred Schreck and children autoed to Kenosha, Wednesday.

Ellen Knudson, of Wilmet, visited Gretchen Kautenberger, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lubeno entertained their son, Harry, and family and daughter, Mrs. C. Barber, and family, of Silverlake, on Thanksgiving day.

Miss Gertrude O'Connor, of Silverlake, was a Trevor caller Wednesday evening.

Fred Schreck autoed to Des Plaines Thursday, returning Friday.

Lawrence Fleming, who is attending the Marquette college in Milwaukee, spent the Thanksgiving vacation at his home.

Mrs. D. McKay, while dressing a turkey on Wednesday, has the misfortune to cut her hand quite badly. A doctor was obliged to take a number of stitches.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lubeno were Silverlake visitors, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickle and daughter Myrtle were guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Schmidt at Wilmet Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Willis Sheen was a Chicago passenger Monday morning.

Mr. Mickie transacted business in Chicago, Tuesday.

Mrs. Dayton, of Antioch, called on Trevor friends, Sunday.

The Mystic Workers held their monthly meeting at the hall Tuesday evening.

WILMOT

Vera Hegeman was home from Milwaukee-Downer college over the holidays.

Guy Loftus returned from State Line the first of the week, after spending several weeks hunting there. Mr. Loftus brought a deer with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and son motored to Milwaukee and spent Thanksgiving holidays with friends.

Miss Brennan, of Chicago, was a guest of Edna Lois for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hegeman and family motored to Kenosha on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holdorf were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mecklenburg for Thanksgiving.

Anna Brasky returned to her home at Watertown after spending several days with Rev. J. Brasky here.

Mrs. Strang and Miss Mason, of Richmond, were entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kruckman.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seidschlag celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding on Thanksgiving day by entertaining about twenty-four of their relatives and friends at a dinner.

Some of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Gauger and Gertrude Gauger, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, Mr. Hahn and children, Mrs. K. Krenke, of Kenosha, and Mrs. Jorgenson, of Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Hazel Beck, and Mrs. Ganz motored to Kenosha for the day Sunday. Violet Beck who has been the guest of relatives in Chicago, for several weeks returned with them.

Roland Hegeman spent a day in Chicago recently.

A. C. Stoken was out from Chicago over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reynolds were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kinreed, of Burlington on Thanksgiving. Mrs. Winn Peterson and children returned with them to Wilmet for a visit until Sunday. On Sunday they all motored to the Peterson home in Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ward and Leonard motored to Milwaukee where they were the guests of friends over Thanksgiving. Mrs. Ward remained until Sunday.

The Wilmet movies promise to be very good next Sunday night. Frank Mayo in "The Sharkmaster" will be shown and an Educational News reel as well as the comic, "The Sharkmaster" is a Universal film.

Margaret Cleary, of Milwaukee, was a guest of Mrs. J. Carey the last of the week.

Mrs. Mary Dalton, of Sioux Falls, S. D. and Mauston, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. John Moran, Sr., the last week.

Walter Carey and son Irving motored to Sycamore on Friday.

James Owen has bought a new Ford sedan and Louis Hegeman a Ford coupe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ferry, of Zion, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Loftus on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hasselman entertained at a dinner Sunday in honor of the christening of the twin Vandersee babies, Olive May and Olenie Elsie, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. P. Vandersee, of Brighton. The guests were Rev. and Mrs. S. J. J. Rhoda and Norman J. J. Rhoda, Elsie Harms, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harms, George Harms and Gladys Koenke.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Albrecht were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Elbert, of Salem, for Thanksgiving.

Miss Jamison spent the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents at Appleton, Miss Kortendick at Poca-tonica, Miss Hanson, at Milwaukee and Miss Hughes at South Milwaukee.

Irving Cary returned to Notre Dame university after spending the holidays with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ludwig celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Thanksgiving eve with a dinner to about thirty-five of their friends and relatives. One feature of the evening was a real old time charivari. The guests were entertained at cards until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig were the recipients of a number of gifts in honor of their anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Carey had as guests for Thanksgiving Mrs. Mary Carey, Gerald, Evelyn and Walter Carey, of McHenry.

W. W. Winchell celebrated his ninety-third birthday on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. M. Faber returned from an extended visit with friends at Marshfield Sunday and is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruel.

Doris Ginzalline, Bernice and Loretta Peacock and Austin Stoken entertained about eighty of their friends at a dance at the Woodman hall Saturday night. Music for the dancing was furnished by Henrietta Horton and Fred Frank. The affair was so successful that it is planned to give another party this Saturday night.

Rehearsals for "Nothing But The Truth," the play that the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church is to put on shortly are being held regularly now.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lewis, of Silverlake, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Burroughs on Thursday.

George Bruel was home from Whitewater over the Thanksgiving holidays. Myrtle Westlake from Kenosha and Fannie Bruel from Chicago, Sunday the Geo. Bruel family, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Westlake and Myrtle Westlake and Floyd Westlake, Charlotte Ludman motored to White-water and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Bruel.

The annual business meeting of the M. E. Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Burroughs on Saturday. Officers for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. A. Reynolds; vice president, Mrs. A. Williams; secretary, Mrs. F. Westlake; treasurer, Mrs. G. Faulkner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lewis and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, of Evanston, over the Thanksgiving holidays. Mr. Lewis returned Friday but Mrs. Lewis and children remained for a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kruckman and Dale spent Thanksgiving with Emma and Elizabeth Kruckman in Kenosha.

The Home Economics club will have its next meeting Wednesday afternoon, December 7, at the home of Mrs. F. Burroughs. Miss Miller, of the Wisconsin University club, will be in charge.

Guests at the Camp Lake hotel over Thanksgiving were Mrs. E. Phillips and sons Larry and Tom, of El Paso, Tex., Robert Nanvey and Joe Touhey, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. French and children, of Glencoe.

Mrs. Harry Orvis, of Camp Lake, was quite ill the past week. Mrs. Johnston and daughter, of Kenosha, have been with her.

Dorothy Huff, of Camp Lake, spent Saturday in Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Brenkman entertained Rev. and Mrs. S. J. J. Rhoda and children Thursday evening at a dinner.

Dr. Bertha Raymond spent Tuesday in Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Volbrecht entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Volbrecht and family for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Pacey and Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith and daughter motored to Kenosha on Sunday.

Mrs. Knutsen entertained her brother, Mr. Anderson, of Kenosha, over the week end.

Wanda Raymond, of Chicago, is making an extended visit with her mother, Dr. Raymond, of Camp Lake.

U. F. H. School

Laura Winn visited school one afternoon the past week.

Band practice was held at the school house Friday afternoon. Six weeks exams were held last week.

The girls basket ball team practiced Friday night.

School was dismissed Wednesday for the Thanksgiving vacation.

A meeting of the Girls' Athletic association was held Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Hope held a Thanksgiving program in the primary room on Friday afternoon.

Rev. Martin, of Kenosha, has sent word that he will be present at the next Parent-Teachers' meeting and give an address appropriate for the occasion.

The Literary society will be organized this week.

AN ORDINANCE
(Continued from Page 1)

or excavation shall deposit with the village clerk the sum of three dollars per linear foot to cover the cost of refilling of trench so to be excavated and relaying such pavement by the Village providing such person, firm or corporation making such excavation fails to comply with this ordinance. All of such money so deposited remaining after paying the cost of such replacement shall be refunded.

Sec. 5. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to make openings or excavations in any such streets or alleys shall be required to enter a good and sufficient bond to comply with the terms of all ordinances of the Village of Antioch and to restore such street or alley and all pavement thereon in accordance with all ordinances of such Village regulating such openings or excavations which said bond shall be double the amount of the reasonable cost of restoration of such street or alley.

Sec. 6. All necessary sewer and water connections from the water mains and sewer mains located on any street in the Village of Antioch which has been heretofore or may hereafter be selected and determined by the state of Illinois or the county of Lake or either or both for pavement of such street shall be made by the respective owner or owners of such adjacent real estate immediately after the selection and determination of such street for such improvement and in accordance with all ordinances applicable thereto. Connections shall be made, both water and sewer, with the respective mains at least one for every fifty feet of frontage on said street so to be improved. All such connections shall be made throughout sufficient of the width of such street so to be paved so as it shall not be necessary to make any excavations under any pavement or curb of such improvement so to be made as aforesaid. All connections with water main throughout any street to be improved as aforesaid which are of iron pipe at present shall be at once removed and replaced with lead pipe in accordance with the said water and sewer ordinance providing therefor. All sewer connections in any such street which do not comply with such ordinance shall be removed and replaced with sewer pipe and connections so as to comply with such ordinance. Provided, however, that the provisions as to water connections in Sec. 6 shall not apply to any section of said streets or alleys that is not to be paved throughout its entire width.

Sec. 7. In the event that all water and sewer connections are not made in any street so to be improved by the state or county as aforesaid by the owner or owners of adjacent property before a contract for such improvement on the part of the state or county is let, then and in such event the Village may proceed to install such water and sewer connections in compliance with this ordinance and other ordinances applicable thereto and charge the entire costs of such improvement by the Village as aforesaid to the owner or owners of such adjacent frontage. Such cost of such connections as aforesaid may be levied and assessed against the property benefited thereby by special assessment or special taxation in accordance with law or the Village may recover from such respective owner or owners individually by suit any sum or amount so expended by the Village aforesaid, such suit to be brought in any court of appropriate jurisdiction.

Sec. 8. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars for each offense. Upon complaint of any person that this ordinance has been violated, a warrant may issue for the arrest of such offender and he shall be tried without unnecessary delay. The penalty provided for in this act may be recovered by a civil action in any court of appropriate jurisdiction. Upon conviction of any person for violation of this ordinance he may be committed to the county jail, the Village calaboose or the Village prison which may now or hereafter be provided for the incarceration of offenders until such fine, penalty and costs shall be fully paid, providing, however, no such imprisonment shall exceed six months for any one offense.

Sec. 9. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and due publication.

Frank R. King, Village President.
Passed November 22nd, 1921.

Approved November 22nd, 1921.
Published December 1, 1921.

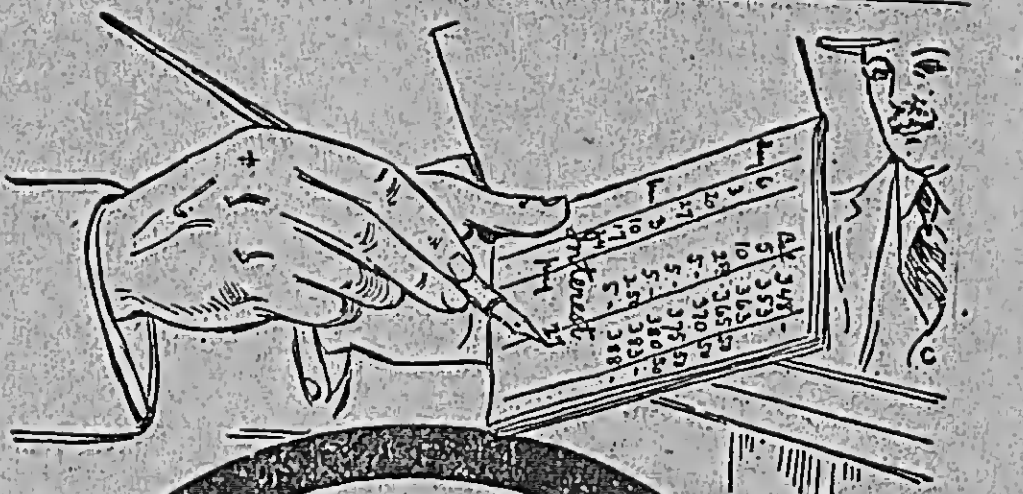

Attest Harry A. Isaacs, Village Clerk.

Official List of Transfers

Rudolph Weidland to Alfred Taylor and Albert Guthrie lot in Village of Lake Villa, w. d. $10, stamp $3.

F. T. Fowler and wife to Joe Koelstra and wife, lot 26, blk 3, Fowler's sub Lake Villa, wd $10, stamp 50 cents.

Anton Vendley and wife to Joseph Novotny et al lot 7, Shady Lane sub in sec 21, East Antioch twp wd $550, stamp $1.

Your Protection

You not only protect your savings, but you get paid for doing so when you have a savings account at this bank.

Money that's idle means money wasted. Put your saving to work and watch the interest grow. We watch both the principal and interest for you and relieve you of all the banking worries.

Safety—Honesty—Courtesy—Service

Brook State Bank
Antioch, Illinois

— BUY YOUR —
Xmas Gifts
— EARLY AT —
Webb's Racket Store

Books "for All Ages"
Fancy Box Stationery
Engraved Xmas Cards
Fancy Work and Embroidery Threads
Complete Line of Handkerchiefs
Fancy China
Skates --- Sleds --- Dolls --- Games
Toys of All Kinds
Xmas Tree Ornaments

We take subscriptions for any magazines and appreciate your orders